Irreconcilable differences force out Waterway leader

Executive resigns after a year of 'headbutting' with conservative agency directors

By JEFF PATERSON
Staff Reporter

After 4 1/2 years as Executive Director of The Fox Waterway Agency, Karen Kabbes has tendered her resignation as a result of a perceived split over management emphasis.

Kabbes' resignation, effective June 30, was presented to the Agency's Committee of the Whole meeting on May 8. It came just prior to the reopening of a resolution, tabled April 24, to cut $20,000 from her salary of $70,000.

In her letter of resignation to the board, Kabbes makes no mention of the proposed pay cut, saying only that she would be resigning to "pursue other business and personal interests." Clearly, however, the hanging resolution was a signal that frictions between Kabbes and a group of the agency's directors had become irreconcilable.

"It became obvious that the board had wanted to move in another direction," Kabbes said. "That being the case, I felt it was probably best to move on to a different position."

The pay cut resolution, proposed by Director Marshall Lowe and supported by Directors Ron Baker and Stan Mill, had originally been staved off only by the tie-breaking vote of Chairman Dr. William Dam. Calls to Lowe, Baker and Mill requesting comment on Kabbes' resignation were not returned.

Kabbes indicated that, from her perspective, the change in the board's direction could best be summarized as a "desire to concentrate more on day-to-day business," such as dredging operations, and less on coordinating long-term efforts with other agencies.

Kabbes acknowledged dredging operations were "an important part of clearing out the Chain (O' Lakes)." She added, however that it was also "a band-aid approach" compared to strategic efforts geared toward locating and controlling silt sources, such as in the state's "C-2000" program.

Agency Chairman Dam admitted to having acted as "a referee for a year" in "headbutting" between Kabbes and conservative members of the board. With Kabbes' resignation tendered, however, Dam spoke out concerning how "very shortsighted" these board members had been in forcing her hand.

"I'm vehement in my total conviction that they were wrong," Dam said. "They'll be angry at me for speaking to the press but, if so, their anger is misdirected. We've seen the

Cleaner and Clearer

Award-winning volunteers peer into lake quality and see a trend toward improved clarity

By KENNETH PATCHEN
Staff Reporter

Volunteer lake monitors for Loon Lake and Petite Lake have received state recognition awards for their contribution to the state-wide effort to identify water quality trends for lake habitats.

Awards recognize consistent annual performance of monitoring activities to collect base data on lake conditions.

Receiving awards from the Illinois Environmental Protection Agency are Bill and Betty Holleman for Petite Lake and Robert Gerloff for East Loon Lake. Other area volunteers involved in the Volunteer Lake Monitoring Program are Walter and Debra Mazik on Loon Lake.

Gerloff, Bill and Betty Holleman, and Debra and Walter Mazik are part of a 253-person network of volunteers throughout the state of Illinois who collect information about water transparency.

The information describes general water quality and potential lake and watershed problems. Early identification of water quality trends helps to establish lake management strategies.

"They're going to start checking this year for zebra mussels," said Gerloff of his expanded list of duties. The mussels attach themselves to boats previously used in Lake Michigan, but not properly cleaned before being placed in a new lake. His most recent lake tests were done May 4.

"In the spring of the year, it's fairly clean," Gerloff said. "It's one of the cleanest in the state."

Bill Holleman, a volunteer starting his sixth year, has seen lake water quality improve over the years.

"Sewers have led to the improvement of water quality, and we cannot overlook that." The decline of septic tank use in the Chain O' Lakes area "has been a major effect."

Both Holleman and Gerloff report greater lake clarity in the spring and fall. Mid-summer boat propellers stir bottom sediment.

Lakes are checked three times a year. "We go to a specific site" on the lake, says six-year volunteer Mazik. A secchi dish on a rope is dropped into the water and two sets of observations are made to determine the depth at which it can be seen. A secchi dish is a standard black and white design that remains parallel to the water surface. A volunteer observes the depth at which it disappears from view.

The work load consists of making observations, filling out forms with the data collected, and sending them to the Northeastern Illinois Planning Commission. NIPC staff member Holly Hudson also trains volunteers and monitors their performance.

Holleman points out that the program is a multi-agency effort. "I'm a member of Illinois Lakes Management Association. This program is partially coordinated through ILMA." ILMA has been around since 1978.

"They would like to do every lake, but there are not enough volunteers," said Gerloff. Interested people wishing to monitor their lake can reach Holly Hudson at NIPC at (312) 454-0400.

Murder shows extremes of abuse

ALEC JUNGE
Staff Reporter

A murder in Lake Villa Township has brought into the focus the dangers of domestic violence.

On May 11, a Fox Lake Hills resident allegedly murdered his wife by beating her in the head with a baseball bat. William Warwick III, a 46-year-old Navy retiree, was charged with first-degree murder after he reportedly confessed to killing Paula Warwick, 42.

He is being held without bond at the Lake County Jail.

"This is really becoming a problem now. People need to realize that domestic violence is crime," said Phyllis DeMott, coordinator of A Safe Place, a haven for women who have been battered by their husbands.

DeMott said domestic violence is about another spouse trying to have power over the other.

"It's all about control and power. If I can't control you by verbally doing it, then I will do it physically," DeMott said.

She added there is a honeymoon phase in a relationship where everything goes well. Then something happens to change that relationship.

"It starts when one person gets really angry and hits the other person and is really sorry about it. They say they won't do it again, but they do," DeMott said.

DeMott said victims of domestic abuse often have a hard time accepting that they are being abused.

She added people who are being abused can obtain orders of protection. She said counselors at A Safe Place will listen with compassion and help them with paperwork.

In this extreme example, the victim, Paula Warwick, had apparently argued with her husband four hours earlier about his inability to control his anger and his need to seek counseling for anger suppression.

They went to their garage at 2 a.m. to continue their argument so as not wake the children. According to Lake County Sheriff's police, one of two children, a 13-year old daughter came to the garage when she heard a noise, and was told to shut the door by her dad. Only a few minutes later, he reportedly yelled at her to call for help. Police received the call at 2:20 a.m.

Sgt. Thomas Braze of the sheriff's department, said Warwick's statements to police were inconsistent and he eventually confessed to killing his wife and admitting his inability to control his anger and the need to seek counseling.

Police found him cradling his wife who was bleeding profusely, according to Braze. She was taken to Northern Illinois Medical Center and pronounced dead shortly afterward.

An autopsy conducted at noon, May 11, revealed the cause of death was several "blunt trauma" blows to the head. She also had injuries to her hands, suggesting she had tried to defend herself.

DeMott encourages any person who is abusive to call the crisis line at 249-4450. She also suggests those who are being abused call the hotline.

Warwick remains in Lake County Jail and is being held without bond.

Braze indicated that he is not sure where the 13 and 14-year-old daughters are living at this time.

Paula Warwick worked as a social services assistant on the New Parent Support Team at the Great Lakes Navy Family Service Center.

Co-workers at the base social service agency were shocked and grieving over the loss of Warwick, Monday. They were reluctant to be quoted, but told Navy spokesman Bill Dermody of the base public affairs office, Warwick "had a very generous spirit, was gentle and well-liked."

It is unknown when William Warwick retired from the Navy. He served honorably for 21 years. According to the Bureau of Naval Personnel, he will not lose his retirement benefits if convicted of the crime. Retiree's benefits can be garnished, however, if a crime is service-related.

His children will continue to be eligible for full medical benefits, including counseling, from the Navy due to his retiree status.

enemy and, in this case, the enemy is us."

Dam said Kabbes had done "a marvelous job in leading us through turbulent waters," helping restore respect for the agency after problems involving financial wrongdoing and inactivity on the part of previous executive directors.

Both Kabbes and Dam said they had recognized the need for a full-time dredging-excavation field manager. Ironically, former board member Roy Gundelach of Ingleside was hired to fill that post at the same meeting Kabbes' pay cut was first raised.

If the cut had been proposed to help pay Gundelach's $40,000 salary, Dam indicated that Kabbes' services to the agency, including the securing of some $1.2 million in grant funding, had always more than recovered their cost.

"Before she was here, we were spending $6,000 to $7,000 a month on attorney fees and consultants and now it's down to $1,000. If she did nothing else (but reduce costs), there's her salary right there."

Dam added that, although he had received assurances of continued interagency cooperation, another potential cost to the agency of Kabbes leaving could come in the form of lost time and setbacks to the good working relationship Kabbes had fostered with many partner agencies.

In the future, Kabbes has said she will be examining options in the consulting engineering field.

Martini aims to keep Kabbes with petition drive

By JEFF PATERSON
Staff Reporter

Acting in response to recent events, County board member Judy Martini (R-Antioch) is asking for the public's support in a petition campaign asking the board not to accept the tendered resignation of Fox Waterway Agency Executive Director Karen Kabbes.

"If I have to strap myself to a barge, I won't let her go," Martini said, adding that "it would be a sad day for the area if they accept her resignation."

Martini said those wishing information on the petition campaign should contact her at 838-2907.

She also encouraged those unhappy with the recent direction taken by members of the board to attend its next meeting, to be held on May 22, at 7:30 p.m., at the agency headquarters.

ACHS juniors learn civic lesson at village board

Nathan Olszak and Brian Lolmough have showed solidarity is alive and well in Antioch. The pair of Antioch High School juniors appeared at a recent Antioch Village Board meeting to express their opinions about parking regulations on Harden Street near the school.

The duo argued to trustees they should not have been ticketed for parking violations and needed quick access to the school in order to get to their jobs after class.

Their comments to the Village Board, however, were not persuasive in getting relief from the parking fines.

Nathan and Brian get credit for mutual support and for their attempt to influence community issues and most importantly for taking an active role in their civic lessons.

Spring flowers are coming on strong. Good showings of tulips, daffodils, and jonquils are out at the west end of North Avenue at the W. Shepard residence, 25354 West North Avenue. J. Loyd at 25123 Sylvan also has a nice display of tulips and jonquils in the same area. Loon Lake residents can find a nice collection at James A. Hotchkiss' place at 40296 Shady Lane—yellow and red tulips. These are not the spectacular displays of professional decorators as much as the emerging displays of committed gardeners.

Karen Kabbes, Executive Director of the Fox Waterway Agency, is leaving June 30 after more than four years of public service. One Antioch resident provided this quick review of Kabbes: "She was such a highly qualified individual." And: "She's a classy lady."

Community residents should be sure to pick up a copy of the April ACHS Tom Tom newspaper. It has articles about local drug use. Education and social programs are also discussed. The paper is a good read and a view into the school. The journalism students create an exceptional paper.

Newly seated Antioch Township Supervisor Timothy Osmond intends to identify programs sponsored by the University of Illinois Cooperative Extension Service that will provide help to Township residents.

These will be programs that draw upon the resources of the University and are brought here to Antioch for presentation.

Township approves donations

Antioch Township officials unanimously approved donations to four organizations requesting funds and providing evidence of service to township residents.

A Safe Place received $1,500, $500 less than requested. In 1996, 76 Antioch Township residents made use of A Safe Place services.

Community Youth Network, an organization that helps to shelter children, received $500, a $400 increase over the 1996 donation amount.

Lake County Council Against Sexual Assault received $100, and Countryside Association received $50.

Postponed for consideration were Hastings Lake YMCA and Family Services Agencies of North Lake County.

Trustees also unanimously approved the expenditure of $250 to pay for bus service from Antioch to the Lake County Lakewood Forest Preserve in Wauconda.

Twp. funds to rest in local banks

Antioch Township Trustees authorized the treasurer to place Township funds in three local banks. One non-local bank was also approved.

Receiving approval as depository banks were: State Bank of the Lakes, First National Bank Employee Owned, First Chicago Bank, and First Midwest Bank.

Currently, the majority of funds are deposited at State Bank of the Lakes. Township Supervisor Timothy H. Osmond said, "I think we can get the same interest rate here in our local banks as you can going outside (the community). We get the same competitive rates, the money is left here, then there is more money to lend back out to the people in our own community."

Grass Lake 'Retrofest' to recapture '60s spirit

Grass Lake School graduating eighth-graders will sponsor a 1960s Festival Sunday, May 18, from 3 to 7 p.m. The public is invited to re-experience the music, the coffee houses, and the community spirit considered characteristic of that time. The festival is free, of course.

Students selected the '60s time period as a festival theme because it was considered to be "more of a 'funner' time," said Marketing Committee member Jennie Hart. The objective of students was to find a fun theme with community appeal. Linda McManamon said the "eighth graders are trying to give back a fun time to the community."

"From the time I first saw the enthusiasm and how many eighth-graders volunteered to be on a planning committee, I have been impressed with their commitment, creativity, eagerness, and maturity," said McManamon.

The event is sponsored by the Parent Teacher Organization and is managed by committees that include graduating students and adults. Seeking wide-community exposure for the event is the marketing committee of Hart, McManamon, Mary Boerman, Grant Zerfass, and Rick Ward.

Information about the Festival is available at www.lakeonline.com/glsfest.htm as well as from McManamon at 395-8464.

The public is encouraged to attend wearing 1960s-style clothing. "They're having a sixties costume contest, a coffee house, a disc jockey playing 1960s music, food, games, and prizes," said McManamon. Students will be reading poetry in the coffee house.

Twenty area businesses have donated prizes to give away and to sell food at the festival. Movie tickets, gift certificates at restaurants, computer items, shirts, gift items, and games have been donated. The music selection and equipment, webpage management services, and signs for promotion of the festival have also been donated.

Of special interest to adult attendees will be the beaded necklace and mirror ball. "The light ball is going to be the grand prize for the costume contest," said McManamon. The necklace is second prize, and movie tickets are third prize.

Other members of the graduating class and the PTO are serving on the Decorating Committee, Donations Committee, and Volunteers Committee.

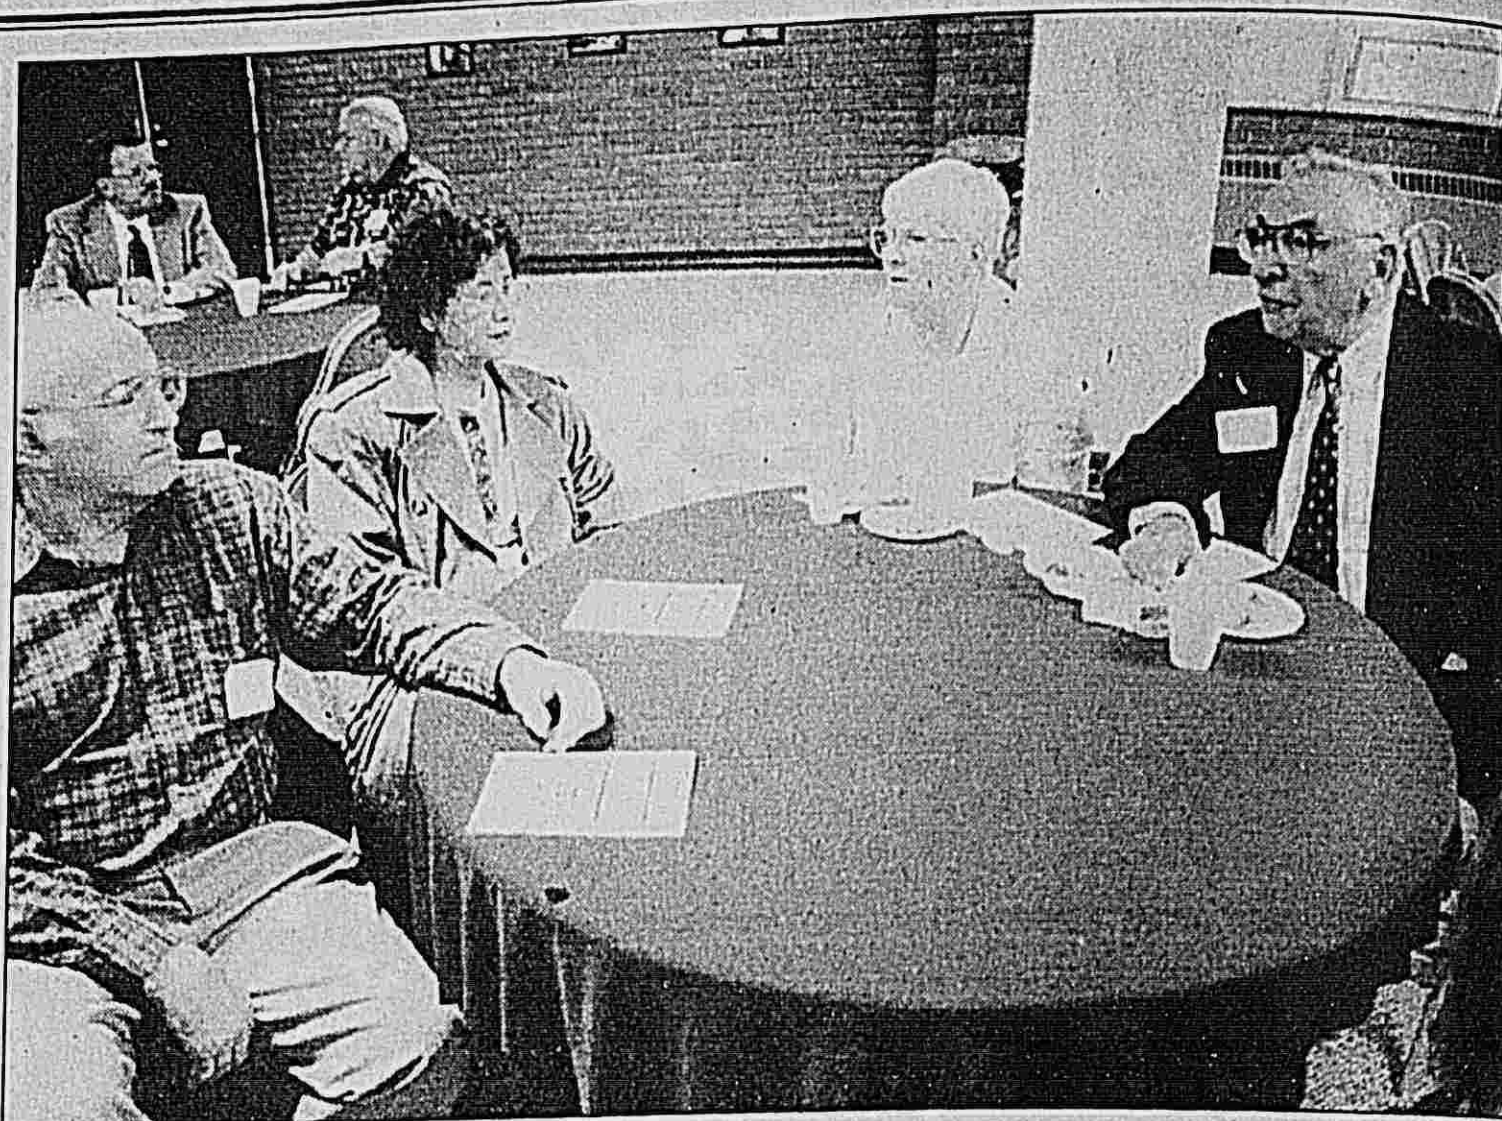

Students organizing the Retrofest are: Tommy Davis, Charlie Miller, Kim Cartwright, Michelle Gielow, Lee Morrison, Chris Colson, and Shannon Day.

Mother Mentors working with the organizing committee are: Debbie Davis, Laura Miller, Joyce Sass, Jackie Ronstat, Dorothy Hart, Laurie Zerfass, Darcy Morrison, and Desra Colson.

Businesses which are cooperating with the presentation of Retrofest include: Antioch Theater, Baskin Robins, Best Pets, Burger King, Century 21 - Epifanio, Classic Windows, Inland Harbor Marine, J J Blinkers Novelty and Gift Shop, Lake Online's Internet Studio, Leaves of Earth, R-Dogs, Rosati's Pizza, Sound Sensation DJ, Space Walk of Antioch, Speedy Signs, Taco Bell, The Olde Dude Store, T's on You, and World Cup Coffee.

There are 24 students in the class of 1997.

The last Grass Lake School festival was in 1993.

Antioch High recognizes its volunteers

Antioch Community High School held its third annual volunteer recognition program, honoring over 150 volunteers who are making a difference at the school. School employees and students honored the volunteers by volunteering their own talents at the event. Students Sara Gillette, Becky Krocker, Noreen Johnson and Kate Rogers combined their flute talents to form a flute ensemble for pre-program entertainment.

Faculty member, Clarence Williams, volunteered his professional speaking ability to give a 15 minute motivational speech and the ACHS Foods 1, 2, and 3 classes, under the direction of teacher Linda Zeman, prepared and served desserts. Faculty members volunteered to take turns presenting special coffee mugs to attending volunteers.

Pam Podstawa is in charge of the volunteer program at ACHS. "I wanted to find a very special way to thank our volunteers for the many hours they have invested in our school," said Podstawa. "When I requested help from staff and students, the response was tremendous. Everyone here was anxious to show their appreciation and I think that says quite a bit about how much of a difference our volunteers really make here at ACHS."

Community members are welcomed and encouraged to join the ACHS Volunteer Program for the upcoming school year. Anyone interested should call Podstawa at 395-1421, ext. 231.

POLICE BEAT

ANTIOCH

Charged with DUI

Antioch Police arrested Fred J. Pezzati, 46, of Antioch, May 7 at 4 p.m. at a vehicle accident on Route 173 at the Wisconsin Central railroad tracks in a 1991 Chevrolet Blazer. He took a breathalyzer test reported by police to register .26. Bond was posted at $100 plus a driver's license. Court date is set for June 10 in Waukegan.

Antioch Police arrested Jerome P. Hart, 42, of Antioch, May 11 at 1:33 a.m. for DUI, a revoked license, and no insurance. He was driving east bound on Route 173 between Route 59 and Tiffany Road in a 1989 Isuzu Pickup. He refused the opportunity to take a breathalyzer test. He was released on a recognizance bond and will appear in court on June 3 in Waukegan.

Antioch Police arrested Brian M. Stump, 23, of Trevor, Wisconsin, May 11 at 2:21 a.m. for DUI and excessive speed. He was driving a 1976 Chevrolet. He refused the opportunity to take a breathalyzer test. He posted $300 cash bond. The court date is June 3 in Waukegan.

Antioch Police arrested Keith L. Gant, 38, of Trevor, Wisconsin, May 12 at 12:21 a.m. for a traffic stop and DUI. He was driving north on Main Street approaching North Avenue in a 1984 Nissan Station Wagon. He took a breathalyzer test reported by police to be .14. He was released on a recognizance bond. The court date is June 3 in Waukegan.

Charged on warrant

Antioch Police offered to help Ricky J. Compote, Jr., 27, of Austin, Texas, obtain medical help when they found him vomiting in an alley May 7 at 2:53 a.m.

He said, "I'm OK. I just have a stomach ache from eating too many corn dogs."

A check of national police records revealed an active arrest warrant with the North Lake Police Department for the Wind City Amusement Carnival employee. He was wanted by them for failure to appear on a retail theft bond of $3,000. He was extradited to the North Lake Police Department.

Parole caught

Antioch Police found Joseph G. Gibson, 50, of Palatine, walking east bound on Route 173 at Pedersen Marine May 10 at 1:36 a.m. National police data revealed that he was wanted on an outstanding arrest warrant for parole violation.

The outstanding warrant was confirmed with Cook County. Gibson related that he did not have money for bond or anyone to call. He was placed behind the door of Cell 2 then transferred to the Lake County Jail where he could be picked up by the Cook County Sheriff's Office.

Gurnee teen charged with sexually assaulting 8-year-old

Gurnee police believe an incident when a 16-year old allegedly sexually attacked an 8-year old should not be cause for alarm from the general population.

"This is not a problem for Gurnee, it happens periodically in society. This is an isolated incident," Fred Witte, Gurnee police commander said.

The reported incident took place between late May 9 and early May 10. The 16-year old was an acquaintance of the 8-year old victim. The 16-year old has been charged with criminal sexual assault.

The 16-year-old Gurnee resident has been remanded to the Depke Juvenile Detention Center after a private hearing.

"He has been very forthcoming about what happened," Witte said of the suspect.

Authorities would not say where the attack took place. The matter is under investigation and Department of Children and Family Services and Lake County Council Against Sexual Assault (LaCASA) has been notified.

"In 80 percent of sexual abuse cases, it is from someone they know and trust," Anne Subry of LaCASA said.

Victims have been as young as 3-years-old in sexual assault cases, according to Gurnee-based LaCASA. The agency offers counseling and other services to sexual assault victims.

Witte said all the necessary individuals have been contacted. There are no other victims.

Man leaps to death from tollway bridge

A Mount Prospect man plunged to his death as he leaped from a bridge on May 9.

The deceased individual, a man, age 58, had his birthday that day. The person jumped from a bridge off I-94 to O'Plaine Road. He was identified as Dharm M. Mehta.

"There was no note or anything. It appeared to be a suicide," Gurnee Fire Chief Tim McGrath said.

McGrath said Lake County Sheriff's Dept. Officer F. C. Winans tried to stop his vehicle to talk the man out of the act but could not. When the suicidal victim let go from the bridge, he struck four passing vehicles which were going northbound on I-94.

"It all happened very quickly," Lake County Sheriff's Dept. spokesperson Thomas Braze said.

The incident was turned over to Illinois State police.

"This is not the first suicide we have had, but it is the first in several years," McGrath said.

The Lake County Sheriff's Criminal Investigation Dept. is investigating the cause of death. The Illinois State Police is handling the traffic accident aspect of the case.

In other calls:

Additional personnel were called in to assist an extrication of individuals involved in a car accident northbound on Rte. 41. A 69 year-old male, a 75 year old female, a 50 year-old female and a 70 year-old male were transported to St. Therese Medical Center.

New Relief for Carpal Tunnel Syndrome

Finally, there is an effective, non-surgical treatment procedure for Carpal Tunnel Syndrome (CTS) and other associated conditions of pain, numbness or swelling of the elbows, wrists, hands and fingers.

To give a perspective of the magnitude of Carpal Tunnel Syndrome problems, in 1992, 61 percent of all non-trauma related work injury claims were for CTS and the total cost for treatment was $31 billion.

Until recently, the only alternative for treatments of Carpal Tunnel Syndrome were: 1. do nothing; 2. anti-inflammatory medications; 3. wear splints and wrist braces; 4. have surgery.

Unfortunately, none of the alternatives had a high degree of success. Depending on the research studies evaluated, surgery had only a 40 to 70 percent success rate and many of those cases had to have repeat surgery.

This is not the fault of the surgeon. It's just that the surgery doesn't correct the underlying cause of the problem. Dr. Paul Fulk, researcher, has developed a more effective treatment procedure utilizing a new, specific therapy modality called the CTM-1. This machine has just finished its clinical trials and has shown conclusively that effective non-surgical treatment of Carpal Tunnel Syndrome is available and that the results can be obtained quickly.

In fact, a majority of cases treated had a positive outcome, many having significant and substantial relief of symptoms in less than 15 treatment sessions of the therapy procedures. Compared with months of suffering and/or painful recovery from surgery, the time needed for this non-surgical procedure is very short, indeed.

The effectiveness of CTM-1 is based on its ability to re-stretch the muscles of the forearm, which typically tighten with CTS, thereby stretching the nerves and blood vessels that run through the carpal tunnel. This allows for the reduction of the inflammation, pain and weakness so often associated with CTS.

If you, or someone you know suffers from Carpal Tunnel Syndrome or related disorders, you may benefit from this new non-surgical procedure. Dr. Burge has successfully treated Carpal Tunnel Syndrome for the last 9 years. Upon learning of this exciting breakthrough in CTS treatment, he immediately made arrangements to obtain one of the CTM-1 machines. They are now conducting CTS patient evaluations to determine who could be helped with the treatment of the new CTM-1.

If you would like to be evaluated for Carpal Tunnel Syndrome at The Family Chiropractic Center, the evaluation is being offered at no charge, as a public service.

To make an appointment, call: The Family Chiropractic Center, 2104 Route 12, Spring Grove, (815) 675-6692.

Dr. Raymond A. Burge is a Palmer Graduate, Postgraduate study in Chiropractic Radiology, Foundation for Chiropractic Education and Research, Parker Resource Foundation, Member of American Chiropractic Association.

SCHOOL DIGEST

Sequoit Pride golf outing, July 16

Sequoit Pride will host its second annual golf outing Wednesday, July 16 at the Antioch Golf Club. Shotgun starts begin at 1 p.m. The fee is $60 for 18 holes of golf, a cart, lunch, dinner, two drink tickets, and door prizes.

Sequoit Pride is a parent organized fund raising group for Antioch Community High School. Funds raised will be used for curriculum, computer, and extra-curricular student needs. Openings for tee and hole sponsors are available. Foursomes may still be scheduled. Call Steve Schoenfelder, 395-1421 (ext. 234), or Tom Crichton, 395-5885.

Summer day camp registration available

Lindhurst Early Childhood Center, 309 Granada Blvd., Lindhurst will be holding summer day camp registration throughout the month of May. Day camp offers swimming lessons, karate lessons, weekly guest speakers and field trips. Also, kindergarten screening will be held throughout May for the 1997-98 school year. The center offers private, full-day kindergarten. Kindergarten graduating class of 1997 will be held at 6:30 p.m. on June 5. For further information, contact Frank Davis at 356-2288.

Emmons PTO to elect officers

Emmons Parent Teacher Organization will elect new officers May 8 at 7 p.m. at the spring general meeting. By-law amendments, staffing for next years committees, and a review of final committee reports are also on the agenda.

Emmons to receive Earth Day Flag

After working all year on waste reduction learning and activities, Emmons students will be recognized for their achievement with an Earth Day Flag commemoration May 16 during a school assembly. Students were involved in waste-free education programs during the week of April 21.

Summer Program Starts June 16

The Emmons School District summer program will operate from June 16 to July 11. Classes are from 8:30 to 11:30 each morning. The dramatic and performing arts program includes reading, writing, computers, as well as student performances. Parents must provide transportation. The cost is $100. Completion of a registration form is required.

Rotary Club names scholars

The Rotary Club of Antioch announces the recipients of its 1996-97 Scholarships. They are: Jamie Hope (Bill Brook Memorial Scholar, named for Outstanding Community Service), Chris Schultz (Homer and Frances LaPlant Memorial Scholar), Michael Keefe, Erin Tilley, Erica Becker, Erika Francisco, Alyssa Griffin, Audra Hazners, Ritesh Patel, Peter Sehmer, Megan Aronson, Marissa Blasko, James Groleau, Daniel Wiegand, Kimberly Konrath, Maxine Olson, Tricia Keefe, and Heather Crammond.

The Rotary Club's scholarships total more than $17,000. The Club is the largest benefactor of scholarships at Antioch Community High School. All of the funds given are raised through the efforts of the local club members.

Students will be recognized at a luncheon held in their honor on May 22, in addition to the recognition of the Awards Night at the High School.

Antioch Walgreens completes major remodeling; new design

Walgreens at 1130 S. Main St., Antioch, has completed a major remodeling. The project took more than five months to complete.

"We'd like to thank our customers for their patience during the remodeling. Welcome to our 'new' store," said John Heleniak, manager.

The store has a new design, including new, one-hour photo finishing service, a drive-through pharmacy window, softer colors and easier-to-read signs. Customers can find finer fragrances, cosmetics, and expert assistance at the "cosmetics bar," a freestanding rectangle of lighted display cases that's the focus of a more spacious cosmetics department.

In addition, the store now carries a wider selection of greeting cards, convenience foods and general merchandise.

"We're very pleased to offer a brighter, more enjoyable place to shop," Heleniak said.

The freshly-remodeled beauty center features free consultations and more than 5,000 nationally-advertised fragrances, cosmetics and accessories. The camera department provides the latest Kodak and Polaroid equipment, plus convenient next-day photo finishing at no extra charge. The remodeled store also offers Hallmark greeting cards and special pharmacy services—including tax and insurance records from the Intercom pharmacy computer.

Walgreens operates 2,256 drugstores in 34 states and Puerto Rico. The company plans to remodel more than 100 stores this year.

Calvary announces '97 graduates

Calvary Christian School is proud to congratulate the graduating class of 1997. The following seniors will be honored at Calvary's Commencement service Friday, May 23, at 7 p.m.

Jonathan (Tony) Abrudeanu, Mike Castro, Harriet Chase, Nathan Drushinin, Kristi Ferrell, Chad Gruzalski, Renee Hackney, Nick Kurtz, Michelle Lotz, Jonathan Novak, Nicole Price, Tim Ricer, John Santner, Samantha Spohn, Alysson Sward, Erika Sweeting.

The keynote speaker is Dr. George Sweeting. Sweeting has served at the Moody Bible Institute of Chicago for over 25 years, first as president for 16 years, and now as Chancellor. Before that, he served as the Senior Pastor of historic Moody Memorial Church in Chicago. A renowned author of more than 30 books, he has traveled worldwide as an evangelist for over 50 years. Sweeting is heard daily on more than 200 stations on the five minute radio broadcast "Climbing Higher." He speaks each year to over 125,000 people in rallies and churches, as well as many others by radio, films, and books.

The public is invited to attend the commencement service which will be held at Calvary Christian School, 124 Monaville Rd., Lake Villa. For further information, phone 356-6181.

Jaycees raise funds for campers

The Antioch Jaycees raised more than $3,600 in their annual Bowl-A-Thon for Camp New Hope. The Camp provides a week of fun for kids with special needs. This year's total was a record for the event. From left are campers P.J. Brankin, 16, Mike Matthews Strom, 16, Mark Serritella, 15, all of Antioch and William Schuenke (C.J.), 10, of Trevor, Wisconsin. ## Can't go camping without right stuff

Some young men from the Antioch community need our help. Recently, the Cub Scouts affiliated with Grass Lake School were preparing for their upcoming week long camping excursion up to Wisconsin's Camp MaKajawan.

When the leaders began taking inventory of all their camping supplies it seems some of their major equipment came up missing. Among the items no longer in the storage cabinet were the boys tents, their five gallon water jugs, the Coleman stove and all the cooking pots and pans.

So, to replace all the missing items and hopefully, still raise the $130 per boy to attend the weeklong camp, the boys are doing some major fund raising efforts. For the next couple of weekends, you will find them selling candy bars and coffee by the Antioch Post Office and in front of Antioch Auto Parts. The coffee is being sold in individual 10 cup packets with flavors like almond, cinnamon pecan, double nut fudge, chocolate raspberry, Irish creme, hazelnut, Kona Hawaiian Blend as well as regular and decaffeinated.

Also for sale, will be coffee pot cleaner, bottled water, and hot chocolate. The coffee is reasonably priced and 100 percent Columbian, makes you wonder if Juan Valdez himself and his mule, will be out putting in a good word for the scouts.

But wait, we aren't finished yet—starting Memorial Day weekend, just in time for the boating season, the scouts will be out at various marina's in the area selling first-aid kits and fire extinguishers. Any of you new to the boating frenzy, first-aid kits and working fire extinguishers are required by state law to be in all water crafts.

So, if any of you happen to be in the vicinity of the Post Office, Antioch Auto Parts or one of the marina's, show the scouts your good-heartedness by purchasing their wares to help them replenish their missing equipment.

A special birthday wish

Young Mr. Jacob Bowen would like to wish a really Happy Birthday to his dad and to his Auntie Barbara who celebrated their birthday's last week. This wish comes a little late, but it still holds a whole lot of hugs and kisses to those two very special people in his life.

Happy Birthday dear

May is the month our very own Neal, was born some many, many years ago. The year he decided to make his entrance into this world also happened to be the year that Mother's Day fell on his magical date.

After presenting himself as a Mother's Day gift to his mom that year it was a tough act to follow to find another gift that lived up to such high standards. Somehow presenting his mom with a toaster or an ash tray made in shop class just didn't seem to fit the bill after his extravagant first year gift. So now, she settles for a card and some flowers on Mother's Day and he settles for a shirt and tie for his birthday—it seems to work for both of them. And that's what we like: happy mother-in-laws and happy husbands.

And now, for all you other May babies: Happy, happy. Philip Bednar, Dennis Joann and Kenneth Bergl (wow glad I don't have to buy presents for that family this month).

"Mr. Beveridge" (Grass Lake's own Principal), Kaitlyn Bies, Kelley (my goofy mom ran all over Lake and Kenosha Counties to get me a complete set of Teenie, Weenie, Beanie Babies) Brausam, Jeremiah Buss, Megan Cole, Kellie Davis, Jean (bowling till the cows come home) DeBoer, Jeffrey (I better get some good boy toys) DeBoer, Robert Edelman, Jody Freeman, Ben Friel, Jenny Hart, Dale Kitto, Dayna Kluth, Brigitte Leonard, Mary (St. Peter's finest DRE) Leonard, Michael Markus, Maureen Marotta, Frank Nava, Garik Niffenegger, Lisa Olsen, Jeffie Pierce, "Uncle" Tom Pocrnich, Lisa Priller, Neal "daddy" Pringle, Kerri Rognstad, Russ Schaller, Jennifer (I love my Aunt Lynn) Schreiber, Ryan Staten, Sarah Struck, A.J. ## Join Passport to Adventure at the Antioch Public Library

Take an adventure this summer at area museums and nature centers with the Passport to Adventure program, sponsored by the North Eastern Illinois Historical Council, the Illinois Parks and Recreation Association, and the Lake-McHenry Historical Alliance. The program is designed to encourage children and their parents to visit area museums and nature centers to explore the events, people, history, and environment of their local communities. Participants, children ages 4 to 12, will experience the world around them through the exhibits and activities at each site.

To participate, pick up a Passport to Adventure booklet anytime after May 26, in the Children's Section of the Antioch Public Library District. The booklet contains the description, location, phone number, open hours, handicap accessibility, and admission fees, if any, of Passport to Adventure museums and nature centers. Children who visit at least five sites by Sunday, Aug. 17, will receive a certificate of participation. Children who visit seven or more museums and/or nature centers will be awarded a certificate and an additional prize.

The Passport to Adventure program in Antioch is being co-sponsored by the lakes Region Historical Center and the Antioch Public Library District. For more information or questions about this program call the Antioch Library at 395-0874 and ask for Joan Padbury or call the Lakes Region Historical Center and ask for Bob Lindblad at 395-7337.

Free boating safety course launched on the Internet

If you've been too busy to take a boating safety class, or you'd like your family to brush up on their nautical know-how, there's now a free, accredited boating safety course on the Internet.

Developed by the BOAT/U.S. Foundation for Boating Safety in cooperation with the National Safe Boating Council, the "On-line Boating Safety Course" can be found by logging on to the BOAT/U.S. website at <http://www.boatus.com>.

"With this innovative, self-teaching test on the Internet, we can expose millions of people to basic boating safety navigation and boat operator skills," said BOAT/U.S. Foundation Executive Director Jim Ellis. "It is ideal for anyone who can't attend a traditional classroom course in boating safety."

The course has been approved by the National Association of State Boating Law Administrators, the organization charged with setting education standards for boating courses.

A reference guide and glossary of nautical terms are provided for the 50 question test. If an incorrect answer is chosen, the correct answer is displayed. If a boater's state is participating in the test, questions recognizing the state's specific boating requirements will also be asked.

Scores will be generated automatically. A passing grade (80 percent or higher) will be rewarded with a BOAT/U.S. boating safety certificate.

Artists Open Gallery May 17

Four area artists will be featured at the May 17 grand opening reception of Niemi Fine Art Gallery and Sculpture Studio in Lake Villa. Hours of the reception are 3 to 7 p.m. on Saturday and 2 to 5 p.m., Sunday.

Featured artists include painter Bart Horn, Wadsworth, and A. Lachman, Grayslake; mixed media artist Stephanie Nadolski, Barrington; and sculptor Bruce A. Niemi, Lake Villa, owner with Susan Niemi of the Gallery. Also showing at the reception will be mixed media artist Janet O'Neal of Santa Fe, New Mexico.

The objective of the gallery is to introduce a diversified group of nationally known artists to the Chain O' Lakes region. The gallery will show artistic works of different art disciplines.

The Gallery is located at 39370 North Route 59. It will be open Monday through Friday from 1 to 5 p.m., and on Saturday by appointment.

'Godspell' auditions this weekend

There will be auditions for the ever popular musical "Godspell" at the Antioch Community High School, 1133 Main St., Antioch, on Friday, May 16 at 7:30 p.m. and Saturday, May 17 at 11 a.m.

There are roles for 13 people. A young cast is needed—preferably high school—20s in age. Good voices and lots of energy are needed. It is a very "physical show." Auditionees should come with a prepared ballad, an upbeat song, and be prepared to dance.

Phoenix rising is a new acting group that has been established by a group interested in raising money for the Antioch High School Fine Arts Dept. All proceeds will go for this purpose.

Performance dates of "Godspell" are July 18, 19, 25, 26, 27. For further information, call Jerod Howard, 265-8736 or Donna Shehorn, 395-4529.

Jazzercise to Presidential Sports Award

May is National Fitness Month. Kick it off by setting new fitness goals. Local Jazzercise instructor Anna Soria is incorporating the Presidential Sports Award Program into her classes.

The President's Council developed the Presidential Sports Award Program in 1972 in conjunction with national sports organizations and associations. Its purpose is to motivate all Americans to become more physically active. The award recognizes those who have accepted this challenge and have invested time and effort to meet personal fitness goals. Participants will earn a Presidential Sports Award when they participate in 50 hours of Jazzercise classes within a four month period and record the hours in the Personal Fitness Log. Contact Anna Soria for further program details.

Jazzercise combines effective exercise, jazz dance and popular music for a unique, fun workout. The variety of 60 to 65 minute class formats includes routines choreographed by program founder Judi Sheppard Missett to music ranging from top 40, jazz, country, funk and classics. Each class begins with a warm-up and takes you up and down the aerobic curve. Classes also include muscle-toning, flexibility exercises and a final cool-down.

Jazzercise is the world's largest international fitness program with more than 19,000 classes taught weekly to 450,000 students in 38 countries by 4,700 instructors around the globe. Soria has been an instructor for 10 years and in the Antioch area for seven months. For local class information call 838-3154. For worldwide class information call 1 (800) FIT-IS-IT or visit us on the World Wide Web at <http://www.jazzercise.com>.

Summer leagues and camps: fun in the sun

In case you haven't noticed—due to the fact that the weather has been so up and down—it's spring and summer is right around the corner. For all you sports enthusiasts, that means a couple of things:

Summer means that all you baseball fans will soon have a reason to go to a Cubs game—a sun-tan. Even if the Cubbies lose another one, and that's almost a certainty, you can still enjoy the event for what it is—a fun time outside in nice weather.

Summer also represents the greatest time to be a part of the youth sports scene. This is when young athletes get better—during the various local sports camps and leagues.

When I was just a tyke, and it wasn't that long ago, going to summer sports camps was a big reason why I loved the games. The camps provide great instruction in a controlled environment, and it gives the kids an opportunity to play on the same teams with many of their opponents—establishing healthy competitive and friendly relationships that may not have happened otherwise.

This summer children of all ages will be playing soccer, baseball, basketball, football, softball, volleyball, swimming, etc... while developing their skills and their relationships with other athletes.

Hand-in-hand with the local sports camps are the various summertime leagues. This provides the children with a great chance to compete and improve, but also allows those of us whose time in little league has passed to enjoy the sports in their purest form.

As you can tell, I am a product of summertime camps and leagues, and I can honestly say that those experiences were the most fun because of the emphasis on fundamentals, improving, and having fun. Winning was not pressed upon us in the summer, but interacting with our school-year opponents and honing our skills was stressed.

This brings me to a point about our sports coverage. We receive a great number of faxes about the local little leagues and we encourage our readers to continue sending them in, and I will try to fit everything into the limited space of the sports section.

Also, feel free to send in photos of any and all sporting events which you would like to see covered in our sports pages.

Now, to shift gears a bit and acknowledge our biggest little leaguers, the College of Lake County men's baseball team finished second in the state in NJCAA Junior College State Baseball Tournament. The Lancers lost to Black Hawk College 13-8 last Wednesday in the final game. Congratulations CLC!!

Finally, if you are looking for the "Athletes of the Week" feature, I can now say that it will debut in next week's issue and will run weekly.

Brendan O'Neill can be reached at (847) 223-8161, ext. 132; fax (847) 223-8810; or e-mail at edit@lnd.com.

ACHS regains offense, wins 15-3

By STEVE PETERSON
Staff Reporter

The offense was back on the right track as Antioch High faced Lake Forest seeking to regain North Suburban Conference momentum.

The Sequoias had suffered 8-0 and 7-2 defeats at the hands of Mundelein and Buffalo Grove, which have more than 25 wins combined. Antioch blasted Lake Forest 15-3 May 12.

"We were in control the whole game. We hit the ball well and played a lot of people," said ACHS coach Steve Wapon.

Sarah Rockow had a single, triple and two RBIs. Jamie Silarski contributed a double, a single and an RBI; Kristen Scopel had a single, double and RBI; catcher Linda Disalvo had two singles and two runs; Jocelyn McRae had a single, RBI and run. Stephanie Haenchen had a single and was hit by a pitch.

Mundelein had gained revenge for a 4-3 Antioch win two days earlier with the 8-0 shutout May 8. Mundelein was ahead only 1-0 before scoring seven runs in the last two innings.

"We lost our composure and they are a very good team. They played a complete game," said Wapon.

Rockow and Silarski had two hits each. Gina Pasquesi's 3-4 day paced Mundelein (13-5, 4-2 in NSC).

North Chicago is at Antioch May 14 in NSC action.

Lancers reflect on success, want more

By STEVE PETERSON
Staff Reporter

The 43 wins were not on the minds of College of Lake County baseball players much on Tuesday, but maybe by now the good times will be coming back.

The Lancers ran into a juggernaut of a "Cinderella" team which had found its glass slipper. The last stand of the season of the No. 1-ranked Lancers was a 14-8 defeat at the hands of the Kankakee Cavaliers.

"They just outplayed us, that is all. They capitalized on their chances and we did not," said CLC coach

Gene Hanson. "But you should not judge a season by a single game, although this was a horrible way to go out."

The Lancers needed to win twice May 6 to earn a spot in the next round against the southern division winner in Springfield. Matters started well with a 2-0 lead after one inning. Bill Duncan, one of the reasons the Lancers kept those hopes alive, singled and Levar Dillard doubled. But CLC was outscored 14-6 the rest of the way, 10 runs coming in the third and fifth innings.

The Lancers (43-10) went out with a bang as Dave Griffin had a two-run homer. But, in a tournament in which solid pitching performances were few, the Lancers came up shy.

Hanson believes season highlights include many new CLC records. Dillard was successful in all 51 stolen base attempts. There was the domination of Skyway Conference and Sectional foes and a 9-2 start to the season in the Florida trip.

"Many will go on to four-year colleges. It is my job to find places for them," said Hanson.

CLC is a sophomore dominated team. Catcher Kevin Eckenstahler leads the returnees who hope to keep the tradition going.

The Lancers downed Blackhawk 16-8 the day before. A 10-run first inning held up for CLC. Mike Cenni made it five RBIs in two at-bats as he clubbed a grand slam while Cory Clark was 4-5.

Griffin gave the Lancers a complete game on the mound, leaving the Lancers feeling good about their chances of an 18-inning day Tuesday.

After a few too many doubles found the gaps and bleeding hits found the right-field grass on check swings, there was only the memories, but what good memories they are.

Lancers' softball season concludes, fall to Moraine Valley

By STEVE PETERSON
Staff Reporter

The College of Lake County and Moraine Valley played three games May 6th, but the outcome marked the end of the 1996-97 softball season for the Lancers.

"Let's play three" was the call in Grayslake May 6. The Lancers were on the losing end of a two games to one tripleheader. After a 5-4 win in game one by CLC, Moraine Valley took its offense up a few notches in a 10-6 and 13-3 second and third game wins. CLC's season ends at 16-17 at the regional tournament, one win away from the state tourney.

Tina Meyer provided the clutch hit as usual in game one. It was her fifth inning homer that gave CLC the one-run win.

"Meyer is such a natural hitter. She sees the ball well and gets comfortable at the plate," said CLC coach Sue Garcia.

Beth Stolarik was called upon to pitch for both games, but Garcia had confidence the team's top pitcher could get the job done.

"We asked a lot of Beth, but Beth is our pitcher. Their pitcher came in and out of the game.

On offense, CLC could not generate much consistency. The Lancers led 2-0 early in game three before the curtain came down on the season.

"Their pitcher could move the ball inside and out and mixes it up. We have always had trouble with slower pitchers," said Garcia.

In game one, Angie Blank singled and scored in the third; Lisa Demiglio doubled and singled and Stolarik and Jen Buckingham both had key singles.

Blank had two hits in the second game and Stolarik had a double. Katie Kline broke out of a slump in late-season and had a double and scored a run.

The third game actually started well for Skyway Conference champ CLC, who batted first.

Demiglio and Blank had singles for CLC as the Lancers broke through in the next inning. Beth Maersh sent a hit over the right-fielder's head which went for a triple, scoring Stolarik. Buckingham singled for the second run, but CLC could not get any more runs—which was very important.

Moraine Valley, who had lost to CLC three straight times, had 12 batters get to the plate in a nine-run second inning.

The CLC girls will now look to next year, and hope to better this year's performance.

Grant doubles push MC to three sets

Grant's tennis team found out why Marian Central is regarded as the favorite in this week's Northwest Suburban Conference meet.

Grant could not mount a challenge in a 5-0 loss to the Hurricanes May 12.

"There were some good matches being played and the Bulldogs are ready for the conference tournament. We have to play very hard to maintain second place," said Grant coach Larry Garlanger.

Grayslake hosts the NWSC meet May 14-15.

Against Marian, Vinnie Desecki lost in straight sets at first singles, 6-1, 6-1 to Reid Taradash; Brad Mark lost in second singles to Chris Bischof, 7-5, 6-3; Joe Durbin lost to Jon Smith, 6-3, 6-3.

Doubles saw the only three-set match.

Scott Wold and Mike Taveirne lost to Dan Fick and Keevin Greubrau 7-6 (7-1), 2-6, 2-6.

Ben Newman and Keith Mansfield lost to Zack Reichert and Trevor Roark 6-2, 6-2.

Rangers-1997 Antioch Iceless Hockey Champions

The final two games of the playoffs were won 6-4 in triple overtime, and 9-6 in six overtimes, respectively. The Rangers posted a 9-1 record on the season. Front row: assistant coach Bill Muehe, Steve Kinderman; Row 2: Joe Marolda, Kyle Sondag, Dustin Muehe, Dan Church, Alex Hofeldt, Jeremy Hall; Row 3: head coach Jim Moran, Kieran Moran, Brad Porch, Paul Schneider, Chris Griffin, Kevin Klean, assistant coach Glenn Hofeldt.

ACHS extends dual win streak

Antioch High's tennis team saw its winning streak reach four straight duals before battling one of the North Suburban Conference powers.

Antioch downed Round Lake 4-1 and Zion-Benton 5-0 before Warren turned the tables on the Sequoits in a 5-0 loss.

Against Round Lake, Tom Longley beat Steve Hovey for Round Lake's only win.

J.J. Edwards earned a 6-0, 6-0 win over Dave Keeton.

"J.J.'s strong point was ground strokes. J.J. kept hitting winners to his opponent's backhand," said ACHS coach Bryan Plinske.

Andrew Dohrmann downed

Clay Kohl 6-0, 6-3.

"Andrew kept hitting crosscourt winners and attacking from the baseline to the net," said Plinske.

ACHS's Steve Drengler and Erik Lipps downed Dan Schroeder and Dan Zink 7-5, 6-3.

Chris Phillips and Kevin Chudd kept their winning ways going for ACHS with a 6-2, 6-2 win over Nick Jovanovic and Brandon Arnold.

"They continue to play good, solid tennis and cover the court well," said Plinske.

Johnson boosts ACHS offense, wins don't come

Stu Johnson, after fighting an illness in the early part of the season, appears to be 100 percent both health-wise and at the plate.

The Antioch High slugger had a 5-9 day as he led the Sequoits offense against Lake Forest May 10. The second game he was 4-5 with five RBIs.

Lake Forest came away with a sweep, with a 6-4 win in eight innings in game one followed by a 13-8 win in game two.

"Stu had been doing pretty well. He slapped the ball around. He is coming into his own. He had mono at the start of the year, but he played through it," said ACHS coach Paul Petty.

SIDELINES

Name: Steve Wapon

Home: Twin Lakes, Wis.

Occupation: Softball, girls golf coach at Antioch High. Dept. chair for physical education and drivers education

I'm originally from: Chicago

I graduated from: University of Illinois at Champaign, graduate assistant at Arizona

My family consists of: wife Ronda, daughters Bradi, age 22 and Jamie, age 20.

I relax by: golf, travel, reading, swimming, movies, walking

Favorite TV show is: Monday Night Football

Favorite movie is: Patton

My life's motto is: You are not a failure until you stop trying

The secret to my success is: Attempting to motivate people to get them to be successful.

My dream job would be: To coach a Rose Bowl team.

Most memorable sports event that I was involved in: I am proud of the 1979 and 1982 football teams which went to the Final four. The 1982 team was one minute away from the championship game before we lost 18-16 on a fourth down broken play touchdown pass.

Most famous athlete I ever met: Walter Payton at a fund-raiser and Bart Starr at a McDonald's at Minneapolis airport.

Athlete/former athlete whom I admire most: Former Cub Ernie Banks. His teams were not successful, but he could take something negative and make it positive.

My most embarrassing sports moment was: My first year in coaching football at Antioch, we had lost our first five games. In the sixth game, we were ahead 31-13. We snatched defeat from the ugly jaws of victory and lost 32-31. We won our next three and made the playoffs the next year.

Greatest sports event (local/college/pro) I attended/a part of: As a member of the Fiesta Bowl for 20 years, saw three national championship college football games.

The greatest thing about the local sports scene is: It is probably working in the high school level. It is still pure athletics. Players play because they choose to play with a desire to work hard and the satisfaction you get from competition.

Sports are important to me because: Sports continually challenges you to work toward excellence. Last week does not count - it is what you do today. You have to motivate yourself and others.

Gooch makes his mark at Lake County meet

Antioch's boys track and field team was without one Gooch, but David Gooch still left his mark on the Lake County Boys Track and Field meet.

Freshman Quinn Gooch was absent from the meet due to a hip injury. His older brother Dave won championship status in the 200-meters in 23.1 and the 100-meters in 11.1. He was also second in the discus in 148-11 while the winning effort was by Thor Solvorsen of Lake Zurich in 155.

"He has a real professional spin to the discus. He is coming on strong at the end of the year," said ACHS coach Norm Hahn.

Jason Erleborn captured Antioch's other crown with an 11-0 pole vault effort.

"It is his consistency. He did not miss and others did. He is a senior and keeps plugging away," said Hahn.

Antioch scored 42 points as a team, tying Carmel.

Brian Potter was fourth in the shot put for ACHS.

Warren High won the meet with 104 points. It was the first meet championship for the Blue Devils. Antioch heads into the May 17 North Suburban Conference meet at Zion-Benton after two wins in dual meet competition. Warren, Libertyville and Zion-Benton are considered favorites.

The Sequoits downed Mundelein 107-31 and North Chicago 97-46.

Dave Gooch won the discus and two hurdle events.

Quinn Good won the 400 in 54.2. He also won the triple jump and long jump before the injury sidelined him for the county meet.

Potter was first in the shot put, second in the discus.

Erleborn won the pole vault in 11-6, six inches better than his mark at the county meet.

A Mother's Day lesson learned by U-9 boys soccer

The U-9 Lindenhurst boys travel soccer team opened their spring season three weeks ago and to date have accumulated a 2-1 record. In the opening game the Typhoon squad met an aggressive opponent in distant Oswego but were able to come from behind to win 5 to 4.

Picking up where he ended the fall season, Alex McKenzie lead the team with two goals and Brett Carlson, Cristobal Leal, and Nick Pietka netted a goal apiece.

In their second game of the season the Typhoon boys played Mt. Prospect at home. The aggressive play of Mt. Prospect gave them an early lead, but the never-to-be-out-done McKenzie tied the score before the quarter's end. The goal play of Kyle Kozach kept the Typhoon squad in the game in the middle quarters by blocking several shots on goal.

In the fourth quarter, Ian Hunter gave the Typhoons the lead with intelligent offensive play (this kid has soccer sense).

The needed insurance goal came from a familiar 1-2 combination: McKenzie, with a corner kick that few but McKenzie can do, set up Darren Nordstrom for a header to the goal. Despite a score late in the game, Lindenhurst defeated Mt. Prospect 3 to 2.

The Mother's day game did not turn out for the Typhoon moms the way they would hope. In addition to heading out across the prairie, rather than RJ's, mothers had to watch their sons being kicked around by a bigger, more aggressive St. Charles team. It would be easy to blame the 40 plus mph winds or the pint size ref who missed the St. Charles boys played defferent than the Typhoon squad.

Four of the five St Charles scores were assisted by several short and precise passes whereas the two Typhoon scores were individual plays.

The Typhoon squad missed several opportunities to score simply because they either waited too long to pass or did not pass at all. Without a doubt, the Typhoon players were as skilled as the St. Charles squad, but on this day the boys could learn something from their mom's: soccer teams, like families, work better as a team rather than individuals.

Organizers expect LaCASA golf outing to be perfect 10

Set for Monday, June 23rd, the 10th annual LaCASA/Zacharias Center Golf Outing is expected to attract people from all throughout Lake County to Lake Forest's scenic and challenging Knollwood Country Club.

"Our Annual Golf outing has become a 'must attend' event for many Lake County business and civic leaders," said Event coordinator Ann Subry. "It's a win-win situation because people can meet and network over golf and dinner, and feel good knowing that they are supporting a very worthwhile non-profit organization in LaCASA."

Due to popular demand, the 1997 LaCASA Golf Outing has been expanded to 32 teams of four, who will play the best two of four balls, with 100 percent handicap applied to their final score. Fine crystal trophies will be awarded to members of the leading teams. In addition, participants will receive a tee gift as a memento of the day's event. A grilled buffet lunch will be served starting at 11 a.m., followed by a 12:30 p.m. shotgun start. An awards celebration will follow the day of golf.

LaCASA is still in need of event and hole/green sponsors. All net proceeds will benefit LaCASA's county-wide sexual assault survivor support and counseling, community education programs and the new LaCASA headquarters now under construction. "Here's your chance to enjoy a great day on a beautiful golf course, and at the same time help eliminate the threat of sexual assault from Lake County," Subry said.

For more information or to reserve your spot in the LaCASA/Zacharias Center 10th Annual Golf Outing, call Event Coordinator Ann Subry at 244-1187.

Diner of Dreams

For memorabilia shop keeper, every night is Jukebox Saturday Night

By KENNETH PATCHEN
Staff Reporter

She was lookin' a little like a female Humphrey Bogart in Casablanca. But, no smokes. No liquor.

It was a dark corner of the long, narrow room. Neon cast a tasteful wash of color across the booths. She was sitting, almost alone, at the round, chrome-edged table with the Formica top, just like in a million diner joints all over the world.

This was her diner joint. RJB-The Diner Store.

Had there been a drink in her hand and a half empty bottle before her, she would have said, "I sell pink flamingos."

She said it anyway. She loves them. The plastic ones. She deals in them, but not blue parrots.

"We started selling pink flamingos maybe 15 years ago when I was doing antique shows," said Terri Blomgren. "We had a full booth of flamingos: flamingo fabric, cement flamingo lawn furniture, ceramic flamingos from the '40s. People just laughed at us. Now, I have a whole following of flamingo people and we go on flamingo hunts in Florida."

Terri Blomgren is a woman in love with her life, her family, her job, and memories of years that have gone by. She sells "fun" at RJB. She sells diner merchandise, jukeboxes, Betty Boop iconography, and stuff.

Blomgren works with major corporations, like McDonalds, to help them create atmosphere in their rock 'n' roll theme restaurants. She also works with homeowners who want to create something special.

Blomgren operates a business with her husband, Ross, in downtown Mundelein near the intersection of Routes 45 and 176. The primary focus is the sale of diner-related merchandise and furnishings, as well as juke boxes.

"I really enjoy it. I never look at the bottom line as being a determining factor. We look at it more on an emotional standpoint, that we really like the stuff," she said.

Although the McDonalds restaurant in Gurnee is the product of its owner's own collection of period merchandise, Blomgren was able to help out with additional finds of collectibles. Much more extensive is her work with McDonalds Corporation's own designers.

"They will need something weird," Blomgren said, and she is the one they ask to help them find it.

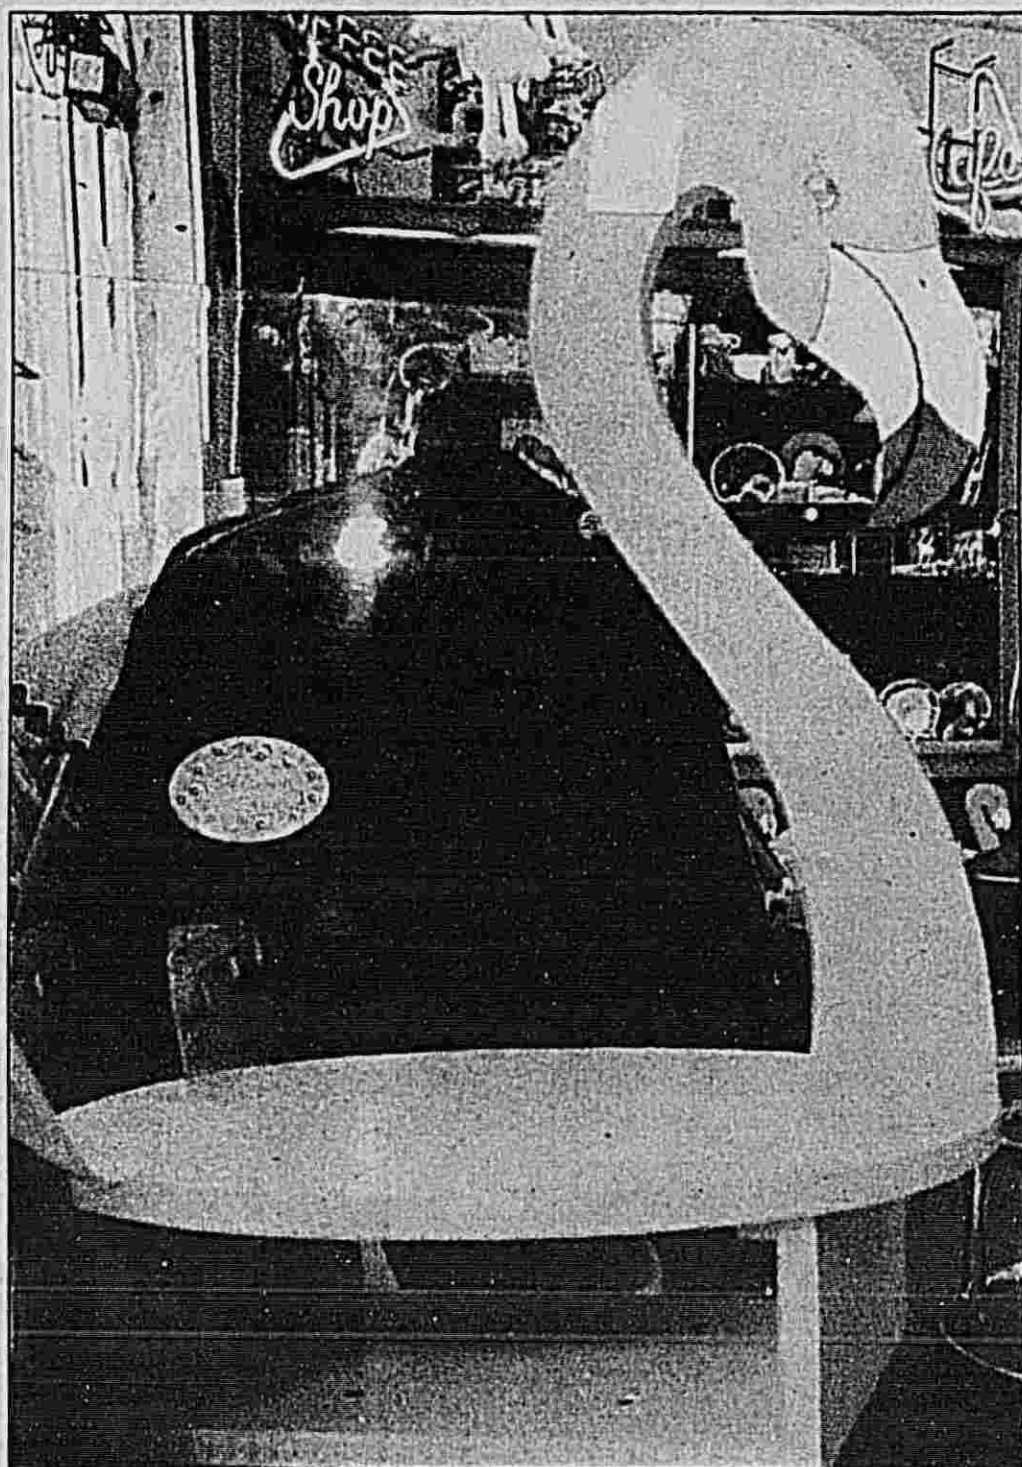

She has found outdoor movie drive-in speakers to be used anew as speakers, vintage steering wheels for wall decorations, original signs for walls, and collectible items that can be inserted into wall murals to create a three-dimensional effect.

One of her favorite restaurants was Shaboos, now closed, in Indianapolis.

"That was a cool restaurant," she said. "They used all original old cars to create 10 booths for customers, complete with individual music units

KIDS FARE

Lambs Farm plans entire weekend for kids

Lambs Farm has always been the perfect place for kids, but now they have devoted an entire weekend to kids. It's WPNT's fourth annual "All About Kids" Day at Lambs Farm, May 31 and June 1 from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. on both days. Enjoy a weekend full of fun with live music, games, entertainment, interactive and educational displays and food, all just for kids.

General admission and parking are free.

Interactive and educational display! Micro-Reality Stock Car Races, the Libertyville Fire Safety House, Metra's Operation Life Saver, the Des Plaines Police Dept. Mobile Education Unit, Kids Count Entertainment interactive computer games, and the Illinois Dept. of Conservation and Fisheries fishing demonstrations on Lambs Lake will all be a part of the fun activities.

Children's Stage Entertainment! Watch Dave Herzog's Marionettes show, Platypus Theatre songs and stories for children and their families, and the JoJo and Kiwi clown and magic act. Children's stage performances run from 11:30 a.m. to 4 p.m. each day.

Special appearance by Bozo, from WGN-TV's The Bozo Super Sunday Show, on Sunday from 11 a.m. to noon.

Fun games, Velcro Obstacle Course, Moonwalk, Inflatable Caterpillar Maze and Games Galore, all just for $1 each.

Great food and refreshments including hot dogs, hamburgers, bratwurst, pizza and more. No picnic baskets or coolers, please. Revenue from the sale of concessions benefits Lambs Farm, a non-profit community which provides vocational, residential and social service programs for adults with mental disabilities.

Lambs Farm regular children's attractions including the farmyard, petting zoo, miniature golf, train ride, carousel ride, pontoon boat ride and pony rides will be available.

Lambs Farm is located on Rte. 176 (Rockland Road) at I-94. For information, call 362-6774.

Kohl Children's Museum, 165 Green Bay Rd., Wilmette invites single parents and their families to sing and shout and Karaoke all about at the Singles Mingle Evening, a unique after-hours event, Friday, May 16 from 6 to 8 p.m.

This event has been planned specifically for single parents and their children to come together for an evening of musical entertainment, as well as experience all of the exciting hands-on exhibits normally available during the day. Also, meet and network with other single parents throughout the evening; don't forget to bring your own picnic dinner!

Cost for this special program is $10 per member family; $15 per non-member family. Advance registration is recommended. Call 256-6056 for information.

What color is your brain

The Kohl Children's Museum invites parents to an interactive workshop entitled "What Color is Your Brain?" to be held from 7:30 to 9 p.m., Tuesday, May 21.

Join professional speaker and local author, Sheila Glazov as she uses her family fairy tale "Princess Shayna's Invisible Visible Gift" to help parents understand how they make decisions and relate to the world around them.

Glazov will discuss her ideas and offer tips to parents on enhancing their child's self-esteem, building dynamic family teamwork, improving parenting communications skills and how to better understand themselves and family members.

Linda Brakeal, president of Phoenix Seminars and an active parenting trainer, states, "Sheila Glazov's broad-based knowledge of education, philosophy, creativity, and creative problem solving combine beautifully to produce an enriching story for the whole family to read together. Children will experience an enchanting fairy tale; and parents will find healthy role models."

Copies of "Princess Shayna's Invisible Visible Gift" will be available for purchase with a portion of the book's profit donated to diabetes research and education. The cost of the evening is $5 per adult member and $6 per non-member. Advance registration is recommended due to limited seating. Call 256-6056 for more information.

Dinosaur families

The Field Museum, located on Roosevelt Road at Lake Shore Drive, Chicago is offering weekend dinosaur activities.

On Saturday, May 24, and Sunday, May 25, from noon to 2 p.m. "Dinosaur Families: Heirlooms and Hoopla." A musical theater performance teaches the basics of paleontology by involving children in the action. While cleaning Mrs. T's attic, Josh and Gina learn how evidence from the past tells the story of lifestyles, human and dinosaur.

Outdoor Dino Dig will take place from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m., May 24 and 25. Discover a dinosaur at The Field Museum in the exciting new outdoor, interactive center which simulates a real dinosaur excavation site. This enormous tent will house a variety of dinosaur/fossil activities designed for all age groups. Activities will include excavating a replica of an Allosaurus, searching for and identifying fossils, and exploring how fossils are made.

Egg incubator: Watch baby chicks hatch and find out how dinosaur babies also hatched from eggs. Dinosaur bone prep lab: From 11 a.m. to 3 p.m., May 24 and 25. Watch as rare dinosaur fossils from Madagascar are removed from the rock in which they are embedded.

Dinosaur mask making: See how you look as a Maiasaurus, from 11 a.m. to 3 p.m., May 24 and 25.

Dinosaur mural: Learn about the trees and plants of the Cretaceous period and take part in creating a dinosaur mural, from 11 a.m. to 3 p.m., May 24 and 25.

Draw a Dino: A sidewalk chalk activity, from 11 a.m. to 3 p.m., May 24 and 25.

Trapped in Amber: Field Museum scientists let you get a close-up look at the museum's amber collection on insects, from 11 a.m. to 3 p.m.

Bird or dinosaur: From 1 to 3 p.m., Dr. Chris McGowan of the Royal Ontario Museum demonstrates how chicken bones can be used to build dinosaur skeletons.

On Sunday, May 25, make your own dinosaur out of chicken bones: Chris McGowan, PhD, curator in the Dept. of Paleobiology at the Royal Ontario Museum in Toronto, will visit the museum for a lecture at 2 p.m. featuring his recently published book.

Dr. McGowan, and others in the field of paleontology, believe birds evolved from dinosaurs, therefore the skeleton of a bird shares similar features with dinosaurs. The cost is $12. For further information, on museum activities, call (312)322-8859.

Maskcapades

KidStuff, Gorton's performing arts series for children, will feature "Maskcapades" Saturday, May 17 from 10:30 to 11:15 a.m. at Gorton Community Center, 400 E. Illinois Rd., Lake Forest. Tickets are $5, and the performance is geared to all age levels.

Nina Cheney and Jacob Mills are a professional touring company specializing in the performance and teaching of physical comedy: mime with masks, Commedia dell'Arte, clown theater, improvisation, juggling, and circus skills. Oversized masks from the carnivals of Basel, Switzerland, are transformed into familiar characters.

The White Pass & Yukon Railroad

by JIM WARNKEN, PRESIDENT
NORTH STAR TRAVEL, INC.

It begins at Skagway, Alaska, and climbs to an elevation of 2,866 feet in just 20 miles! When you arrive at the end of the line, White Pass Summit at the Canadian border, you would have traveled one of the most spectacular mountain railroads in the world.

Once deemed impossible to build, the discovery of gold in the Klondike Valley caused construction to begin on the White & Yukon Narrow Gauge Railroad in 1898. With all odds against it, the track reached the summit of White Pass on February 18, 1899, reaching the final destination, the headwaters of the Yukon River, a few months later. It was from here that the gold seeders would start their final journey by boat to the gold fields.

With grades as steep as 3.9%, the construction of this railroad was not an easy task. Workers hung suspended by ropes from vertical granite cliffs, chipping away with picks.

The WP & YR enjoyed a rich and colorful history hauling passengers and freight to the Yukon as well as being a chief supplier for the Army's Alaska Highway project. But, alas, with the plummeting of the world metal prices, in 1982, the great railroad shut down.

Enter the tourist in search of the Klondike adventure. The White Pass & Yukon Railroad is again operating. You can ride the great train and visit places like Pitchfork Falls, one of many waterfalls fed by giant glaciers. You'll travel through Dead Horse Gulch, so named for the 3,000 pack animals who met their end from neglect and overloading. Look for Black Cross Rock. It marks the place where two railroad workers were buried under a 100-ton granite rock during a blasting accident. You'll see the remains of the famed trail of '98, etched in rock by the shuffling feet of thousands of gold-crazed stampedes and the weary hooves of their pack animals.

If you are lucky enough to visit Skagway, don't miss the three-hour round trip of the WP & YR.

Spring is in the air, and it smells kinda funny

Okay, so maybe it's closer to summer, but you have to admit that this year, spring has been sort of a tease, giving us a little peek one day, just long enough to get excited and drag our warm weather wardrobes out of mothballs, and then the next day—slap! Snowstorms in mid-April.

Not only has this confusing weather played havoc with our wardrobes (although truthfully, I would welcome a few more weeks respite from my annual bathing suit trauma), it has also caused some stranger than usual behavior at the Abear household. We call it "spring fever in the Twilight Zone".

Let's begin with 3-year-old Samantha. She is to spring what "are we there yet?" is to a car ride. She has been the most anxious to get on to warm weather, and has probably asked "is it warm yet?" about 753 times since January. Ever since March, when we had our first

LIFE'S A BEAR

spring teaser day, she has been wiggling through the house in her bathing suit. I say "wiggling" since the bathing suit is at least a size too small and she spends most of her time trying to keep it from becoming a thong.

Her 8-year-old brother, on the other hand, spends most of his time hiding from his wiggling, bathing-suited sister. Not only is she enthralled with the idea of warm weather, she has also become enthralled with the idea of marrying her brother. Yelling "Wait—I just want to gib you a kiss," she chases him endlessly throughout the house, despite his attempts to gently discourage her, such as "we can't ever get married and I would rather kiss a dead rhinoceros!"

Fortunately, she is young and bounces back from rejection quickly. Although it took months to make it clear to her, she finally understands that she cannot marry her brother. So, instead she has set her sights on someone new.

Her cousin, Joey.

Then there's our oldest son, who's still attending college in Washington State but now lives on a farm where he practices organic farming. In a recent phone conversation, he told me to hold on because he had to "chase some chickens". I like to think of myself as a modern parent, but I don't believe that's what his father had in mind when they had their talk about "chasing chicks".

And while we're on the subject of animals, there's nothing like spring to bring out the normal mating behavior of our furry friends. But that might be at your house. At the Abear house, this spring has brought out some behavior, all right, but I don't know if "normal" would be the right word.

For example, we have two neutered pets, of opposite species - Whiskers the cat, and Foxy the dog. Considering those facts, you wouldn't think "mating" would even be an issue, right?

Wrong. Whiskers, despite his lack of...male equipment... remains ever the optimist, the Forrest Gump of cats. So what if the object of his affections is a dog and twice his size?

No problem there! He simply waits till she's sleeping (or maybe she's just pretending?), and then seizes the opportunity to bite her on the neck, throw himself across her shoulders, and lay there, with a smug look on his face.

If I didn't know better, I'd think they were married.

To top it off, as if all this weirdness weren't enough, a new neighbor has moved in to the hole in the hill outside my dining room window. Apparently, the former owner, Mrs. Groundhog, must have decided that since our house sold for a decent price, she might as well take advantage of the market and sell her little hill hole, too.

I hate to be a snob, but when I saw my new neighbor, I had to turn up my nose.

"Thank goodness we're moving, soon," I sniffed to my husband, "because this neighborhood is starting to stink!"

I hope the new owners like skunks.

Donna Abear can also be heard as a guest humorist on WXL 102.3 FM's morning show at 7:10 a.m. on alternate Mondays.

Bowen Park Opera announces season

The Bowen Park Opera Co. opens its opera season this November in Goodfellow Hall with Giuseppe Verdi's most beloved and well-known opera, "La traviata."

In March the BPOC season concludes with the most popular of all Rossini operas, "The Barber of Seville." Verdi and Rossini are two of the greatest masters of the operatic literature.

Whether it be high drama or the lightest of comedies these two extraordinary opera composers shine.

A special bonus for the 1997-98 season of the BPOC is a drop in ticket prices to 1995-96 levels, from $20 to $17 for adults and students, seniors and military respectively, to $18 and $15.

Season tickets offer even greater bargains at only $30 for an adult and only $24 for students, seniors and military for all three subscription plays!

Season tickets can also be purchased as a set for three performance organizations including the Bowen Park Theatre, Bowen Park Opera, and the Waukegan Symphony Orchestra and Chorus Season.

For more information, call the Jack Benny Center for the Arts at 360-4741.

MOVIE PICK

'Breakdown' a study in suspense

Kurt Russell, who, despite his youth, has been making movies long enough to get a gold watch and a retirement party, does the adventure thing he does so well in his new suspense thriller "Breakdown."

Russell is always good, but he often chooses mediocre or worse vehicles, not so with "Breakdown," which stands to be one of the season's top thrillers.

Losing a loved one in strange and sparsely traveled territory is not necessarily a new plot-line, yet Russell and company keep the audience on the edge of their seats while our star looks for his wife who disappears after accepting a ride to the nearest gas station when their car breaks down.

We find Russell and movie wife Kathleen Quinlan traveling through the breathtakingly beautiful Moab Desert of Utah when they have a confrontation on the road and later at a service station with an offensive jerk played by M. C. Gainey.

When Russell's Jeep breaks down with only Gainey's vehicle in sight, and their cell phone doesn't work, they seek help from a friendly truck driver played by J. T. Walsh, one of our better villains.

Quinlan takes a ride to get help

In a frantic search for his wife, Kurt Russell has the audience on the edge of their seats as the chase takes him the breathtakingly beautiful Moab Desert in the suspenseful thriller "Breakdown."—Submitted photo while Russell remains to guard their car because of Gainey.

All hell breaks loose when no help comes and Russell can find no trace of his wife. He pulls Walsh over with the help of the law to find the truck driver denying their previous meeting, as well as his wife's existence.

The action scenes are among the best of the recent technological blockbusters and the actors, especially Walsh and friends and their conspiracy, lend a chilling aura to the desert's vastness and beauty. Mayhem and evil keep building towards a horrendous climax.

Though the story resembles others such as "The Vanishing," this husband's frantic and relentless, obstacle-smashing search for his wife is a real attention grabber, with the old suddenly seeming new because Russell's everyman personality blends with the strength and passion of a superhero so believably.

We give "Breakdown," rated "R," 4.5 stars out of five. We also predict that this is a sleeper, due to draw unexpected crowds since it has been released before the deluge of summer thrillers.—by Gloria Davis

Come to the "Cabaret," one of Broadway's best musicals, at Candlelight Dinner Playhouse now through July 20. Tedd Greenwood plays the master of ceremonies, Leisa Mather as Sally Bowles, and Christopher DeAngelis as Cliff Bradshaw.—Submitted Photo

CRITIC'S CHOICE

'Cabaret' musical with a mission

By GLORIA DAVIS
Staff Reporter

When a musical wins seven Tony awards and the movie a few Academy Awards, we know that this is not the tired businessman's story, but one of substance.

"Cabaret" is about the personal tragedies of a man, a woman and another select few living in pre-war Berlin.

Though not the happiest of plots, there is still a lot of joy, often a bit frenzied, among the pathos at the "Cabaret," and its Kit Kat Club, now playing at the Candlelight Dinner Theatre.

This is a bold, bodacious and brassy musical featuring lots of black garter belts and black stockings as the sexy chorines of the cabaret slither and then stomp through the doom-filled aura of Berlin just before the Nazis took over.

The feeling of a world screaming towards disaster while fun is the name of the game comes over loud and clear in the rather startling direction of David Perlovich.

Although Ted Greenwood's Emcee is mysterious, he fails to have much of the charming pathos that usually makes the character outstanding.

Leisa Mather's Sally Bowles, the poor little rich girl slumming in Berlin's nightclub neighborhood, emotes dramatically as a doomed sex chick, who runs away from that which might make one think or care what happens to others.

Christopher DeAngelis plays Clifford, a young American writer who is confused about his sexuality, yet very concerned about what's happening to those around him.

Stealing the show both dramatically and vocally is Jeff Kuhl who brings Herr Schultz to life with between the eyes realism. His love interest Frau Schneider, Sally and Clifford's landlady, is well played by Marilynn Rogetich.

The boot stomping choreography of Rudy Hogenmiller is the perfect vehicle to transmit the bone-chilling goose-stepping nightmare that was pre-war Berlin.

As often happens at Candlelight, the real stars of the show are the stage mechanics which in the case of "Cabaret" use the hydraulic center stage to smoothly switch from the cabaret to Clifford's apartment with ease.

Though she is no Lisa Minelli, Mather delivers "Don't Tell Mama," the love duet with Clifford, "Maybe This Time," and the title song with more style than voice.

The cast's "Wilkommen," a definite mood setter, sets the pace for this unhappy, yet well-done musical. Call (708) 496-30952 for more information. Look for a jolting finale which leaves the audience in quiet shock instead of the loud applause one might expect.

Teaching kids to be good sports can be easy task

Dear Dr. Singer,
My kids love to watch sports with my husband. I'm greatly concerned about the lack of good sportsmanship I see exhibited in many of these games. I don't want my kids to get the idea that it's OK to act like some of these sports people act. These people are made out to be heroes in our society and I'm very disturbed by what my kids may be picking up from this. Can you share any hints you might have to help them avoid this. I don't think it's right to make them stop watching sports, especially, since it is something that they can enjoy with my husband. F.R.

Dear F.R.,

I don't feel that it's necessary for them to stop watching completely either. It's what you help them understand that will make the difference. I feel that there are many sports figures who do behaviors that are not necessarily role model behaviors, but I also know that there are many sports figures who are great role models. I think that much of the problems stem from the repetitive coverage the bad behaviors get.

If a sports figure does something shocking, the news replays it for days. I'm certainly not saying that we cannot know about it, but I believe that many of the more negative behaviors exhibited in sports are glorified and publicized ad infinitum. I wish someday, the positive sports behaviors would have the same coverage.

As far as what to tell your kids, I would make sure that whoever watches the game (you mentioned their dad) with them doesn't react to sports players' bad decisions and behavior with laughter or any other positive response. I would also have Dad talk with the kids afterwards about good decisions and bad decisions. If they watch a sports player do something against someone else, Dad can tell them that this would never be acceptable behavior no matter who did it. Your kids need to understand that sports players are not heroes or Gods, but rather, real people working/doing their job.

In fact, I have heard many sports players respond in exactly that way: "It's not my job to be a role model." I do believe, that when you are in the public eye and kids can watch you, there is a certain responsibility that goes along with that. Certainly, no one is ever going to impose something on anyone like that and I'm not sure that they should, however, you hope that most sports figures understand that kids do watch them regularly.

This is really no different than your kids watching any other form of entertainment. It is really important for parents to inform their kids about their morals, values and expectations and then talk about it a lot with their kids. If these things are taught regularly, the apple usually doesn't fall far from the tree no matter how many sports incidents he or she sees!

Lake County plans rendezvous

Lake County Promotions invites all 1700s through 1800s costumed reenactors to participate in their rendezvous Aug. 23 and 24.

The location for the rendezvous is the Lake County Fairgrounds, Rtes. 45 and 120, Grayslake.

In an effort to insure that the Lake County Rendezvous is a memorable event and becomes a tradition here, we are offering to reenactors who would be willing and able to demonstrate their craft to the public throughout the day (no sales) free entry for the weekend.

Craftsman whose would like to participate and have made their own items (commercial items not accepted) and Blanket Traders (all sales from blankets) need only pay a $20 entry fee.

Merchants (wall tent/marquee) entry fee is $30.

Food items are not allowed to be sold.

Set-up time if Friday, Aug. 22 from 3 to 10 p.m. and Saturday, Aug. 23 from 6 to 9 a.m.

Wood, water and toilet facilities available. Reservations and full payment required.

The Rendezvous will be held in conjunction with the well established Lake County Summer Arts and Craft Show, both events will be open to the public 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. on Saturday and Sunday.

Family dining at its best in Fox Lake

For dining out in a comfortable atmosphere, on food the entire family will enjoy, at affordable prices, the Fox Lake Family Restaurant can't be beat.

Tony Mack has returned to the location at 56 N. Rte. 12 opening his 19th restaurant in 32 years in the food service business with the newly remodeled and expanded Fox Lake Family Restaurant.

Tony cooks wholesome food the same way his grandfather did in the 1930s. "We serve the best for way, way less," is Tony's motto as he and his experienced and friendly staff try to make eating at the Fox Lake Family Restaurant an unbreakable habit, not just a once in awhile experience.

The restaurant specializes in good food served for every meal, whether its breakfast, lunch or dinner. Tony and his staff welcome your patronage from 6 a.m. to 9 p.m., seven days a week.

Start your day with the bacon or sausage and eggs special at $1.99, or by digging into one of the outstanding omelets. A wide variety of hearty sandwiches, each served with a free cup of soup of the day, or crunchy healthy salads fill the luncheon menu. For those who prefer, a half sandwich and soup is available.

Broasted chicken, breaded pork chops, or the best steak in town are dinner favorites. Porterhouse, T-bone, New York Strip and Rib-eye steaks are cooked to your specifications and served with perfection. Soup, salad and dessert come along with the dinners.

All seniors get a 20 percent discount after 2 p.m. daily. Eating good homemade food at the Fox Lake Family Restaurant is better than eating at home because you're leaving all the work up to the expertise of Tony and his staff. Call (847) 587-6005 for more information.

Volunteers recognized at Victory

Patients in the care of friends, not strangers

Victory Memorial Hospital honored its volunteers at a luncheon to mark National Volunteers Week. Those recognized were community members who have donated from 100 hours to more than 17,000 hours.

During the luncheon, Tim Harrington, president of Victory Memorial Hospital, praised the volunteers when telling them that Victory is a better place because of their efforts. "One reason Victory is not a 'factory for the sick' is because of people like our volunteers," says Harrington. "You are dedicated people who exhibit our '4-C's' philosophy of Caring, Compassion, Courtesy and Competence."

People are often apprehensive when they are admitted into a hospital for care. "We are at the mercy of strangers when we come into a hospital," says Harrington. "We depend on people we don't know to care for us. Your contributions to help create an environment of compassion and caring show people that at Victory—they are not 'at the mercy of stranger,' but rather, in the care of friends."

Victory Memorial Hospital's 385 volunteers logged 45,320.5 hours of service in 1996. That is the equivalent of 23.51 full-time employees. Volunteer efforts gave Victory a net cost savings of $313,566 during the year.

The following people were recognized for donating more than 2,000 hours (cumulative) at Victory Memorial Hospital.

Aldene Nordmark and Courtney Rucks, 2,000 hours; Jan Knobbe, Arleen Kough, Phyllis Malm, Florence Nero, Dorothy Oglesby, George Swanson, Elizabeth Wojtowicz and Mary Young, 2,500 hours; Walt Bufum, Adeline Filippo and Alyce Hesse, 3,000 hours; Ruth Hankey, Robert Park and Yetta Smith, 3,500 hours.

Rita Gagnon, 4,000 hours; Edith Cavanaugh and Mary Riley, 5,000 hours; Lorraine Forsythe and Mary Helen Hudson, 5,500 hours; Ruth Kruger and Gladys Piat, 6,000 hours; Harvey Hewitt and Cumella Rand, 7,000.

Doris Richter, 8,000 hours; Lillian Eggers, 10,500 hours; Margaret Harris, 11,500 hours; Bob Nimits, 12,000 hours; Bernice Hewitt, 12,500 hours; Maizie Wood, 13,000 hours; and Adeline Walther, 17,000 hours.

For information about volunteer opportunities at Victory, call 360-4127.

Adeline Walther, center, Waukegan, volunteer at Victory Memorial Hospital, receives the volunteer appreciation award for attaining the most volunteer hours (17,000) through 1996. She is congratulated by Tim Harrington, president; Randy Wiesemann, manager, Volunteer Resources; and Sue Geiger, vice president, Human Resources.—Submitted photo

Stroke caregivers sought

Almost three million people in this country have survived a stroke. Many of these individuals have family members whose lives have also changed dramatically as they have become full-time caregivers.

The Rehabilitation Institute of Chicago is seeking stroke caregivers to take part in a study on managing the stress of caring for a spouse during stroke recovery.

Subjects must be at least 60 years old, a primary caregiver for one month or more and living with their spouse.

"Stroke is traumatic, not only for the individual who experiences it, but also for family members who become primary caregivers when the patient comes home from the hospital," says Senior Psychologist Robert Hartke, PhD. He offers the following coping techniques for caregivers of stroke survivors:

- Become comfortable asking for help on a regular basis. Far from a sign of weakness, asking others for assistance will conserve your energy, prevent you from feeling overwhelmed and give others the opportunity to show their concern.

- Try to communicate openly with the stroke survivor. Remember that the stroke survivor is more than a patient. He or she is also someone you care deeply about: a spouse, a child or a friend. Try to preserve some aspects of that relationship, particularly ones that are supportive to you.

- Look for opportunities for rest, diversion and exercise. Personal time is essential for your long-term health and emotional well-being. Build this time into your schedule, both in small ways (a phone call to a friend, a relaxing bath or a long walk) and occasionally in a big way (dinner with friends or a vacation when someone else takes over caregiving tasks).

- Recognize that your own needs must sometimes take priority. Even though the stroke survivor has many needs, yours are important, too. Remember, you can care for another person only as well as you care for yourself.

- Set limits on unnecessary care. After a stroke, a person may become impatient. However, it is critical to learn when and how to say, "No" or "Not now" when you know a request is excessive or a need is not immediate.

- Recognize when you should seek formal sources of support. Support groups provide information and emotional assistance. Religious, personal and family counseling may also help you manage the stress of care-giving.

To learn more about the stroke caregivers study, call Dr. Hartke at (312)908-6231 or Rosemarie King, PhD, RN, at (312)908-8038.

VA Center initiates telephone advice clinic

The North Chicago VA Medical Center announces the opening of the Telephone Advice Clinic, a telephone service to assist veterans with health care inquiries. Veterans can call with questions regarding prescriptions, reactions to medications, eligibility information, appointments and any other questions about their health.

Veterans who have utilized the service have been complimentary. One veteran noted a change in her condition, but was unsure of whether she needed to come in. The clinic's RN, who received specialized training for this program, was able to assist her over the phone until her next appointment.

Nothing substitutes for face-to-face health care, or the use of 911 if the patient is in immediate danger, but this special telephone service can be an important part of maintaining good health. Rather than putting off asking what may seem an insignificant question until the next scheduled appointment, it takes only a few moments to consult with medical staff over the phone.

Donna Wagner, RN, and manager of the program added, "We are proud to be able to assist veterans over the phone, possibly saving them an unnecessary trip into the medical center. Our goal is to educate veterans that they shouldn't wait for a minor problem to become overwhelming; we may be able to give advice over the telephone to keep the problem from becoming serious. Or we may confirm, yes, you need to come in right away."

Calls are noted in the patient's record for the health care provider's information.

Veterans may call 578-6920 to reach the program's nurse practitioner, registered nurses or other specially trained staff.

Kids fair to provide immunizations

Good Shepherd Hospital will provide discounted child immunizations and lead screenings Saturday, May 17 at the Kids Care and Safety Fair co-hosted by the Kiwanis Club of Barrington and JFK Health World, Barrington. The fair will be held from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. at JFK Health World, 1301 S. Grove, Barrington.

Although the most dangerous childhood diseases are preventable, only 68 percent of Illinois children receive the proper immunizations. To help families protect against the crippling and potentially deadly effect of disease, Good Shepherd Hospital is coordinating $1 child immunizations along with the Cook and McHenry County Health Depts.

Good Shepherd Hospital is a community partner in the Kids Care and Safety Fair and maintains a strong commitment to community health outreach activities. Children who are not immunized can become more susceptible to serious, even life-threatening diseases. Immunizations are among the most vital and cost-effective steps parents can take to assure that their children remain healthy.

Immunizations offered at the fair include Hib (Haemophilus Influenza B); measles, mumps, rubella (MMR); tetanus (DPT/ID); and oral polio. Each shot will cost $1. Be sure to bring your child's current immunization record.

Additionally, Good Shepherd Hospital will offer discounted lead screenings at $20 each. Three to four million children suffer from lead levels that significantly affect their health. Lead can damage the kidneys, liver, the nervous system, reproductive organs, the heart and circulatory systems, gastrointestinal organs and brain functions—even the immune system. Since children are more likely to play in dirt or put things, such as peeling paint flakes, in their mouths, it's more likely that lead in their environment will affect them.

Other services available at the fair include child identification with fingerprinting, videotaping and photos; free asthma and scoliosis testing; bicycle safety, drug awareness; and burn, vehicle and home safety.

Families attending the fair will have free admission to all of the interactive exhibits at JFK Health World.

For more information about the fair call 842-9100.

For information about the immunizations or lead testing, call 1(800)323-8622.

HEALTH NOTES

Classes for back pain continue

A class titled "Back Into Action: The Feldenkrais® Method" will continue at Gorton Community Center, 400 E. Illinois Rd., Lake Forest, beginning Wednesday, May 28 from 9:30 to 10:30 a.m. for single sessions or a series of four weeks.

Innovative lessons, taught by Cheryl Becker, certified Feldenkrais® Method practitioner, show you how to "get back" into action, with easy ways to reduce stress, stiffness, aches, and become more flexible. The fee for the course is $50, or $15 each week. Classes run on an ongoing basis. Interested participants should call, 234-6060.

Independent living workshop

The Lake County Center for Independent Living is sponsoring an educational workshop on public schools' responsibilities under Title II of the Americans with Disabilities Act on Saturday, May 17 from 10 a.m. to noon at 706 E. Hawley St., Mundelein.

Lake Forest Hospital opens new patient services

Lake Forest Hospital is hosting a public open house Sunday, May 18 to celebrate the grand opening of its new Patient Services and Health Education Center. The celebration will begin with a ribbon-cutting ceremony at 3 p.m. and last until 5 p.m.

Area residents are invited and encouraged to tour the new facility which offers centralized patient registration and a variety of outpatient services including occupational health services, emergency services, outpatient laboratory, mammography and bone densitometry—a new service at Lake Forest Hospital—for early detection of osteoporosis. The first floor of the three-story facility is home to the Health Education Center which hosts a variety of health-related community activities and events throughout the year. Health care booths will be set-up and staffed with health care professionals, including physicians. You'll be able to participate in health screenings, including blood pressure, posture and hearing screenings.

Mini-massages will be provided by Lake Forest Health and Fitness Institute. The Lake Forest paramedics will also be on-hand for ambulance tours.

The open house is free. For more information, call 234-6111.

Shriners offer free orthopedic screenings

Children up to the age of 18 will be examined by Dr. Fetter and the screening will determine if the child's problem is one that could be cared for at Shriners Hospital for Crippled Children. Further examination and possible care will be provided free of charge to the parents by the hospital in Chicago.

Among the conditions which could be considered are cerebral palsy, osteogenesis imperfecta, spina bifida, severe scoliosis, juvenile arthritis, club feet, amputees, and other orthopedic related disorders or birth defects, as well as burn problems.

The screening will be held from 1 to 4 p.m., May 20, at Lake County Orthopedic and Sports Medicine Center Ltd., Suite 126, 135 Greenleaf, Gurnee.

Parents should bring to the screening, copies of the child's birth certificate, immunization records and if necessary, documents showing guardianship or custody.

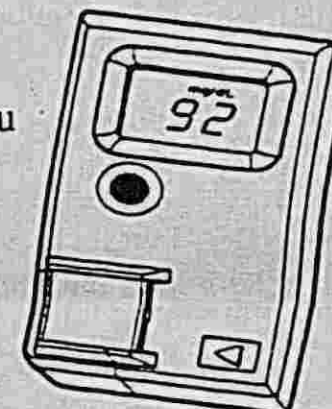

Transportation to the screening clinic can be provided if it is a problem for the parents.

For information, call Richard Vojtko, 623-3840, or Donald Wasson, 244-4824.

I was treated for prostate cancer two days ago. Today, I'm back in the office.

New advances in the treatment of prostate cancer have made it possible for many men to get back to their normal routine, even as soon as two days after treatment.

One of the treatments which provides this benefit is seed implantation, a non-surgical, outpatient procedure which places a radiation source, or "seeds", inside of the prostate. Once inside, the seeds deliver radiation directly to the prostate, attacking the cancer while you continue your normal daily routine.

Seed implantation therapy is just one of several treatment options for prostate cancer available at Midwestern Regional Medical Center, one of the most highly rated hospitals in the U.S.* Midwestern's cancer program is managed by Cancer Treatment Centers of America.

In addition to advanced medical care, Midwestern also offers support therapies including diet planning, vitamin and mineral supplementation, support groups, counseling and pastoral care.

YOUR EYES

by Charlotte F. Nielsen O.D.

Many people often think of bifocal lenses in terms of a correction for older people only. It certainly is true that bifocals may be the best solution to the inability of the eye to change focus for near and far vision, which is typical of older eyes.

However, people of any age, even children, may have focusing difficulty. Bifocal lenses provide continual practice in relaxing the focusing apparatus of the eye.... exercise which the eye needs. With young eyes, bifocals may be needed only temporarily, until the eye is trained to do the job without help.

Only an eye examination can determine precisely what correction is required and best suited for each individual's eyes.

Gardeners can create a mood with flower colors

Everyone likes a bright, colorful garden. But did you know that you can create a mood or even create an illusion of change in the garden by using certain colors?

Red and yellow are colors that command attention. Our eyes are drawn to reds and yellows and so are excellent choices to plant in key areas that you want people to see. On the other hand, if you have something in your garden that you don't want someone to look at, plant bright yellow flowers opposite the area to draw attention away from there.

If there are steps or walkways in your garden, borders of yellow flowers will catch people's eyes and alert them in an attractive way. Color experts even say that houses will sell faster if it has yellow trim or borders of yellow flowers out front. This is not a guarantee, but may be worth a try if you are in the house selling market. And who could forget how that now famous brick road painted yellow caught Dorothy's attention and led her along.

Red can have several effects. Bright red flowers planted at the end of a long, narrow property will visually "pull" the end in closer and it won't seem so long. Red also physically arouses. Studies have shown that food tastes better around red, so red flowers around outdoor eating areas will help stimulate conversation and make the food taste better too.

Masses of red or yellow are guaranteed attention getters that won't go unnoticed. In a full sun garden consider red blooms of petunia, celosia, salvia or wax begonia. Yellow is most often found in marigolds, but a great deal of interest is being paid to dwarf sunflowers such as "Sunspot," "Sunrich Orange" and "Sunbeam."

If red and yellow help to excite and draw attention, blue is the color we perceive as being cool and calm. Have you ever wondered why swimming pools are painted "swimming pool blue"? If they were painted red, we'd think the water was hot.

By planting lots of blue flowers you can create a feeling of coolness even in a full-sun garden. Lighter blues are better than dark blues. Those 95 degree days will just feel cooler in a garden with blue flowers.

Blue tones can help widen or lengthen the look of a garden because blue recedes or falls back. Lots of blue flowers planted along the sides of a long, narrow garden will make it seem wider because blue "falls back" visually.

Because blue is the first color to fade from sight as night falls, you may want to incorporate light colors into a blue border if there are areas you like to look at in the evening. Blue tones are found in petunias, blue salvia, lisianthus, ageratum and lobelia.

If you are a very neat, tidy, precise person, then white is the color for you. We think of doctors in white coats because we associate white with cleanliness, orderliness and precision. Crisp flower beds of white will give your garden a well-planned look. Masses of white can be hard on the eyes though, so you may want to incorporate other colors as well. White is also the last color to fade as night falls. If evening is the only time you have to enjoy your garden because of work schedules, white flowers are a good choice because they can be seen and enjoyed as darkness falls. Annuals that deliver good white blooms include petunia, vinca, nicotiana, alyssum and impatiens.

Green is a good compliment to white because it actually helps your eyes recover from the strain of bright white. Engravers doing detailed work often kept a green gemstone handy so they could look at it to relieve their eye strain.

What if your taste runs toward lots of different colors? That's great! Just don't over do it. Mixed colors add a festive touch. But too much mixing can be more disorganized than festive. For a limited but festive look, a marigold mixture can display the four colors of yellow, orange, gold and maroon. Also, using three or four colors over and over can help tie everything together.

If you haven't thought about the psychological effects of color before, these tips may give you some ideas for not only creating a "look" but also the "feel" you want.

Several lawn mower buying tips

For many Lake County homeowners, this is the season for buying a new lawn mower. The ravages of age have taken their toll and the old mower is either wheezing or stubbornly unworkable. What can homeowners expect when they go to a dealer for a new mower?

A lot of questions. A good dealer asks plenty of questions to figure out the best machine for a customer's needs and budget. How big is your lawn? Is it hilly or landscaped? Who will do the mowing? Do you plan to do other projects with the equipment—like garden tilling? These are typical questions that can help direct a dealer toward the right mower suggestion.

When looking for a walk-behind mower, keep these features in mind. A self-propelled mower carries its own weight. Large diameter wheels roll more easily. A blade brake clutch stops the cutting when a lever is released, but lets the engine run—reducing the times you have to restart the mower.

For riders and tractors, look for these features: quiet operation when the mower is actually cutting grass, variable speed drive that reduces clutching; hydrostatic drive that eliminates clutching; attachments that are fast and easy to put on, take off.

Also, be sure to ask about the warranty and fat parts replacement. And ask to look at the service shop. A tidy shop is a sign that you'll get good, prompt and reliable service.

LAWNCARE TIPS

Mowing actually encourages your lawn to grow horizontally and spread into a thick carpet that can choke out weeds. It's most beneficial to observe the one-third rule and mow frequently enough to clip only one-third of the grass blade. Why? Because removing more than one-third of the grass blade can cause a shallow root system. A deeper root system is desirable because it allows your lawn to find water and soil nutrients more easily, especially in hot weather.

Mowing with a sharp blade set at a high cutting height is another way to help your lawn develop a deeper root system. Remember it's not how low you cut the grass, but how even you mow it that gives your lawn that smooth carpet-like look and feel. The actual cutting height depends on the variety of grass in your lawn.

Kitchen can be transformed into mini-greenhouse

To millions of Lake County homeowners, nothing is more relaxing or rewarding than gardening. Whether it's a kitchen full of fresh herbs, a few tomato plants on the back porch or an entire pumpkin patch growing plants offers beautiful (and often delicious) dividends for a very small investment in soil, water, seeds and time.

A garden window lets homeowners enjoy all the benefits of a mini-greenhouse without adding onto their home or hanging plants out an apartment window. Replacing a window in the kitchen, an ideal location for growing indoor plants and herbs, can add sunlight to the home's most popular room in addition to providing a sunnier, larger growing space for plants—a hit with any indoor gardener no matter what the season.

Garden window features a tempered glass top for added safety and less worry about weight from ice and snow. Fusion-welded "forever corners" eliminate maintenance such as caulking and ensure weathertight construction.

Remember those hand-rigged shelves, boards and nails that indoor gardeners use to squeeze extra growing space out of a kitchen window? The Garden Window already includes a handy and sturdy no-maintenance shelf to double the size of your mini-garden.

Engineers measure the energy efficiency of windows as the "R-factor." The "R" stands for resistance: The higher the R-factor, or resistance, the greater the amount of insulation a window provides. The R-factor rating of a window is very important since it directly affects the cost of heating and cooling your home.

When considering adding a window to any room in the home, many consumers assume a wood frame window will give them the most energy efficiency and the longest-lasting product. R-factor tests show that a four-inch thick wood frame used in wood windows has an R-factor of 5.0. But a window frame made of polyvinylchloride (PVC vinyl) with extra polyurethane insulation offers an R-factor of 13.0—far above that of wood frames. This exceptional R-factor helps today's homeowners maintain a comfortable temperature inside their homes while keeping heating and cooling bills down.

And unlike a wood window, a window made of PVC will never warp, expand, contract or rot. It will always maintain its beauty, never require painting and offers superior weather tightness over other windows.

Bringing the warmth and color of nature indoors no matter the season is simple with a garden window installed in your kitchen. Other features include two operating trapezoid shaped casement windows for ventilation and sturdy PVC vinyl frames. In addition, the garden window is also available with HiR+Plus insulated glass and a DuPont Corian seat to ensure a maintenance-free and beautiful interior.

Energy-efficient insulated glass and ever-new surfaces aren't the only options today's consumers have when it comes to a "window treatment." Beautiful handcut beveled glass is also available in a variety of elegant patterns in the garden window—without losing any of its energy-saving features.

A variety of perennials can tolerate shade

We always seemed to get asked what kinds of perennials can I grow in the shade? There are many varieties of hostas, ferns, and astilbes that grow nicely in the shade, however, I'd like to introduce you to some other plants that are becoming popular for shaded areas. The Epimediums (Barrenwort) are beautiful small plants used in rock gardens and as a groundcover and do great in the shade. They can even take dark, shady areas. The unusual flowers are carried in open clusters in early spring before the new leaves emerge. Flower colors range from white to yellow, bronze, red and pink. The foliage is what really stands out in this plant and turns a pleasant bronze color in late fall. Should be mulched in the fall to protect.

The Helleborus orientalis (Lenten Rose) always reminds me of my grandfather as he introduced this plant to me one snowy morning in February and the plant was blooming!

This plant can attain heights of 18-inches with a cluster of two to six flowers that are borne under the leaves. The color of the flower can vary from cream to purplish pink which fades to a brown color.

The Tiarella (Foamflower) are spring-blooming, quick-spreading groundcovers with erect conical clusters of small, fuzzy white to pale-pink flowers. Plant in humus-rich, slightly acidic, well drained soils. Sounds like a lot of preparation before you plant this perennial, however, you will be rewarded as it grows quickly and is extremely showy when it flowers.

The Heucheras (Coral Bells) are another favorite of mine. They are a lovely foliage plant and many have showy flowers. The evergreen leaves are rounded, heart-shaped, or triangular and have long, slender leaf-stalks. The small (one-half flowers are borne on narrow, upright stalks. A great companion plant with the Tiarella and Hostas in one's shade garden. There are many more shade loving plants and we'll mention more in the following weeks.

Article was written by Mike Greco, landscape architect, owner of Mill Creek Nursery, Inc., Wadsworth.

Some vegetables make better bedmates

More and more people are growing vegetables because they know that not only is the taste better when picked fresh from the garden, but home-grown are so much cheaper than shop-bought.

Being able to pick at the peak of tenderness and serve within an hour or two of picking is a revolution for the taste buds.

It's essential to sow when the soil is moist but not wet or waterlogged. It pays to buy top-quality seeds and plants. Sow seeds in drills and never forget the old well-proven saying: Don't sow too early, too deeply or too thickly.

Some Lake County gardeners might say that you shouldn't plant vegetables side by side because you won't get a good yield. Take that—as you would your vegetables—with a pinch of salt.

But one thing is certain: Some vegetables make better bedmates than others, and for what it's worth, here is a list of "compatible bedmates."

Terri Blomgren said her jukeboxes are profitable for businesses which purchase them. Music is something that is very emotional," she said.—Photo by Sandy Bressner on the walls. Today "the decor is in restaurants all over the world. I go visit it sometimes," she said.

DINER: Every night is Jukebox Saturday Night

RJB-The Diner Store is more than a display showroom for large merchandise and her design business for people's homes. The store is stuffed with posters, ceramic cups, ceramic model gas stations, cards, buttons, wall hangings, t-shirts, jewelry, books, and ephemera of the movie and entertainment world. James Dean. Marilyn. John Wayne. Elvis (not Costello). The Three Stooges.

"Everybody comes in here. We carry such an incredible array of items that there really isn't one item I can tell you that sells better than others," she said.

Elvis still sells, according to Blomgren. And the popularity of television shows, such as Nick at Nite, has exposed a young generation to old comedy programs, such as I Love Lucy. As a result, young people recognize entertainment personalities of the '40s and '50s. That recognition generates sales of nostalgia merchandise to people who are not yet nostalgic.

"What we sell here is mostly everybody's memories from the '50s, '60s, and a touch of the early '70s," said Blomgren.

Part of those memories is the elaborate, upright jukeboxes. She restores jukeboxes that are very old as well as sells newer models that include compact disc players. RJB can also provide the wall-mounted music selection systems found in booths of restaurants.

Blomgren started to work with jukeboxes 21 years ago. "That was really our start. I was a furniture designer by trade and so I started doing all the cabinets on the real old '40s boxes. I'd re-veneer them in all the original materials, inlays if we had to. My husband does all the mechanics. We'd make parts if we needed to."

Blomgren said her jukeboxes are profitable for businesses which purchase them.

"I guarantee all my customers that they will make back their money in a year because people sit in a booth, while they're waiting for food, and drop a dollar in a wall box to make their selections. Music is something that is very emotional."

Jukeboxes are still being made today with modern technology. They play hundreds of discs with excellent sound reproduction at 380 watts.

Working at the diner store, Blomgren and her employees meet interesting people from around the world.

"People fly in from all over the world. When you're in here, you'll hear a lot of different accents... I have people who travel Route 66 and travel on up here. We almost told them the road continues on into Mundelein. I have a lot of German customers, a lot of people from England. It's just an incredible mix of people."

Today, people approach jukeboxes as an art form. This is possible because each one is a little different. The function of the jukebox was to interest people who wanted to hear a song.

"You had to attract people in the bar to go over to put money in the jukebox," she said.

As a result, the cabinets became somewhat elaborate to draw interest. People could become very emotional about a jukebox. Some like them, others do not.

The search for flamingo memorabilia, however, continues to be a large part of her life.

"I have everyone looking for a flamingo screen door, and I know they exist because I saw them in Florida about 18 years ago. I saw them, but I was too nervous to go up to the door and ask them if they would sell them to me."

There was more.

"They also have six foot tall cement flamingos that exist in Florida shops. I have to go find a pair of those. I think that would be a great lawn ornament."

For sure.

HOROSCOPE

Aries — March 21/April 20

You feel like screaming at work this week, because it seems that everything you do is causing problems. Don't worry; it will be over soon. Just continue to fix any mistakes that arise. As for your family life, it's going well. Loved ones are there for you to lift your spirits after a long week.

Taurus — April 21/May 21

The workweek seems to fly by. You finish a project that you've been working on for a long time, and it's time to celebrate. Your personal life gives you ample time to relax. Close friends are busy this week, so you've got a lot of time to yourself. Enjoy it while you can, because your phone will be ringing off the hook soon.

Gemini — May 22/June 21

Hold your emotions in check at work this week. It feels like a close friend and co-worker is stabbing you in the back. Before you react, make sure you get all of the facts. Things are not always as they appear. A close friend shows up on your doorstep with a problem. Open up your home — and your heart — to him or her.

Cancer — June 22/July 22

Remain calm as things get crazy this week. You'll be working a lot of overtime to finish up a major project, and your loved ones will be demanding your input in planning a family event. You can't ignore your co-workers or your family, so just try to help everyone out as much as you can.

Leo — July 23/August 23

The lion wants to roar this week as everything goes well at work and at play. Superiors reward you for all of your hard work, and friends take you out to thank you for always being there for them. That special someone finally calls to ask you out. Taurus and Cancer play important roles.

Virgo — Aug 24/Sept 22

While work is tedious this week, it also is rewarding. Even the most boring tasks can let your talents show. A close friend relies on you to be there for him or her during an important event. Even though you feel like a third wheel, he or she needs you. You actually can have a good time.

Libra — Sept 23/Oct 23

Work can wear you out this week if you let it — don't. When things get too hectic, take a step back, and collect your thoughts. Take a walk if that will help. To do your best, you have to stay focused. A loved one turns to you for help later in the week. Do everything that you can.

Scorpio — Oct 24/Nov 22

"When will it end?" You ask yourself this question a lot this week as your manager keeps pushing you harder every day. Don't get frazzled. Keep doing your best, and you will succeed. An old friend calls you up out of the blue and wants to get together. This is the perfect opportunity for you to get your mind off of work.

Sagittarius — Nov 23/Dec 21

Everything is coming up roses for you this week. You get a surprise bonus at work for all you've been doing. As for family relations, they're very strong. Loved ones thank you for the support you've been giving lately. A close friend introduces you to someone who is sure to become more than just a friend.

Capricorn — Dec 22/Jan 20

You finally complete a rigorous task at work. Now is your time to relax. Take Friday off, and get an early start on the weekend. You deserve it. As for your friends, they're ready to celebrate with you. Plan a getaway for all of you.

Aquarius — Jan 21/Feb 18

Don't get discouraged at work. While it seems like the week will never end, it'll be over before you know it. A co-worker with whom you don't often talk will be there to help you with a problem. That someone special throws you a curveball at the end of the week. Don't get upset.

Pisces — Feb 19/March 20

You feel like Superman this week as you keep going without a break. Superiors notice your efforts at work and reward you. Loved ones are amazed at your energy. Try to get as much done as you can, because you'll need your rest by Saturday.

Chicago has changed a lot since the first Rosati's restaurant opened its doors.

Our food hasn't.

When the first Rosati's restaurant opened in 1927, a streetcar ride or cost a nickel, stockyards covered the South Side, and Rosati's was quickly becoming the place for Italian cuisine.

Today, the stockyards and streetcars are gone. Yet Rosati's continues to deliver Italian food that's fresh, hot and delicious. We still use original Rosati family recipes. And we bake our pizza with a secret blend of three Italian cheeses and pile on the ingredients as if we were cooking for our own family.

We even use an authentic baker's oven. It may bake a little longer, but it creates a taste so delectable, it's well worth the wait.

A lot has changed since 1927, but some things haven't...like the quality, fresh ingredients and unique taste of Rosati's.

Preparing kids for

You've decided to send your child to camp this summer. While he/she is looking forward to a great time with new friends, you're understandably dreaming of some peace and quiet. Before your child takes off though, there are some preparations to consider that may help you to make your child's camp experience more fun and rewarding.

Summer camp is more than a vacation for children. At camp, kids learn to appreciate the outdoors, develop companionship and pick up skills that enhance self-reliance, cooperation and interdependence. These skills will remain with them throughout childhood and into adulthood. As a parent, there are a few things to consider to increase the opportunity for a rewarding camp experience for your child.

summer camp

Some helpful suggestions are:

- Consider camp as a learning experience. This is an opportunity for your child to explore a world bigger than his/her neighborhood and a chance for you and your child to practice "letting go." Letting go allows children to develop autonomy and a stronger sense of self, make new friends, develop new social skills, learn about teamwork, be creative and more.

- Prepare for camp together. Decisions about camp—like where to go and what to pack—should be a joint venture. If your child feels a part of the decision-making process, his/her chances of having a positive experience will improve.

- Talk about concerns. As the first day of camp nears, some children experience uneasiness about going away. Encourage your child to talk about these feelings rather than acting on what you think his/her feelings may be.

- Have realistic expectations. Camp, like the rest of life, has high and low points. Not every moment will be filled with wonder and excitement. Encourage your child to have a reasonable and realistic view of camp.

Once your child arrives at camp, he or she may experience some apprehension related to the fear of the unknown and/or the fear of failure in new situations. Some refer to this as "homesickness," which can show up in the form of stomachaches, headaches, occasional misbehavior, or even statements about "hating" camp. Most kids need a couple of days to adjust to life at camp and being away from home.

Water, water everywhere

By GLORIA DAVIS

The many bodies of water to be found in the Lakeland area mean not only breathtaking beauty but offer fishing boating and swimming to residents and non residents alike.

Starting with the aqua-pride of the Chicagoland area, Lake Michigan, the boat harbor off of Sheridan Road in Waukegan, with a new look for the marina, offers boat slips and the availability of charter boats. For charter information, call (847)244-3474.

The Illinois Beach State Park, known to many as the Illinois Dunes, has good beach areas, and many trails for bird watchers and hikers.

Camping and boating, including motor boating, sail boating and jet skiing are also available at the state park located at Sheridan and Wadsworth Roads in Zion. Call (847)244-3474 for more information.

Occupying 77 water-filled acres and 63 land acres, the North Point Marina, located at 701 North Pointe Dr. in Winthrop Harbor, is built on a large floating dock with access to Lake Michigan. Boat slips with utility hook-ups, a launching station and boat charters are available. Call (847)746-2845 for more information.

The next largest bodies of water are the famous Chain O' Lakes, made up of 15 contiguous lakes mostly located in the Antioch and Fox Lake area. They are Channel Lake, Lake Catherine, Lake Marie, Bluff Lake, Petite Lake, Spring Lake (located between Channel and Bluff Lake), Grass Lake, Fox Lake, Nippersink Lake, Dunn's Lake (north of Nippersink Lake), Pistakee Lake, Redhead Lake (southeast of Nippersink), Lake Mathews (southeast of Pistakee), Lake Jerilyn (southern border of Pistakee), and Lac Louette or Mud Lake (southwest of Pistakee.)

There are no public beaches on the Chain but boat launches and marina's galore for boat docking are to be found with the greatest majority located in the Fox Lake area. Korpan's Landing has launching and pier space, restaurant facilities available, located at 112 E. Lakeview in Fox Lake. Blarney's Island in Grass lake is a bar/restaurant only reachable by boat.

The only free boat launch on the Chain is at the Chain O' Lakes State Park, located at 8916 Wilmot Rd. in Spring Grove. Fishing, boating and miles of horseback riding trails can be found at the Chain O'Lakes State Park where its 6,000 acres border 65,000 acres of open water with a shoreline that offers over 200 campsites. Call (847)587-5512 for more information.

Anchors

Larry Phillips pays homage to his wife of six years by naming his boat "Lady Jean." Larry has owned the houseboat for three years and says his wife thought it would be nice if it were named after her.

This 30-year-old old river queen boat, owned by Robert Stephenson, is named "Bunk's House" because of a nickname he had for 35 years, "Bunkle." Robert dressed up the boat he has had for three years by putting on a new coat of paint, ready for the boating season on the Chain O' Lakes.

After 30 years of boating, Elmhurst resident Don Wilkie decided to purchase his third pontoon boat this year and call it "Audrey's Ark" after his wife and the fact that you can fit all kinds of animals on it. With their 10 grandchildren, the boat, fitted with a restroom, gives them plenty of room.

Frank Faglano thought "Trouble" was a fitting name for his speedboat because he says that with all of the repairs it needs, trouble is all it gives him. Frank is finishing some early season fix-ups before the weather gets good enough to go out on the water.

As you address the ball for a pitch shot or short wedge, lift your hands so the club hovers about a half-inch above the ground, with the heel slightly higher than the toe. This puts your wrists in a slightly arched position, allowing you to feel the club's weight in your hands. You want to retain this feeling throughout the shot: The more you can feel the clubhead, the more it will swing itself, and the better the results will be.

Rainy days and Mondays!

The Midwest weather is always unpredictable! Here's a few suggestions to keep the whole family happy until the sun shines again!

• The Family Pavilion at Navy Pier features a unique selection of specialty shops, restaurants, and a food court for visitors. Hours are Monday through Thursday from 10 a.m. to 9 p.m. and Friday and Saturday from 10 a.m. to 11 p.m. and Sunday from 10 a.m. to 8 p.m.

• As Chicago's only IMAX 3D theater with PSE sound, Cineplex Odeon's Navy Pier IMAX Theater comes equipped with the newest technological advancements and special electronic, liquid-crystal shutter glasses. Call (312)595-0090 for the current feature film, admission prices and show times.

• Chicago Children's Museum. Kids take center stage at the Chicago Children's Museum, which features three floors and more than 50,000 square feet of "Kiddom." Located in the Family Pavilion, the Museum offers kids an exciting mix of unique, hands-on exhibits that encourage them to look, touch, explore, think and question. For further information, call (312)527-1000.

• Lake County Museum. Chronological history of Lake County, from Paleo Indian era to the 20th Century. Home of the Curt Teich Postcard Archives. Early modes of transportation museum and more. Visit the museum at 27277 Forest Preserve Dr., Wauconda. Call (847)526-7878.

• Kohl Children's Museum. This museum and its varied exhibits are designed to engage children through age 10 in interactive play and creative exploration. Visit the museum at 165 Green Bay Rd., Wilmette. Call, (847)256-6056.

• The Power House. A hands-on interactive display explains the nature of energy sources, forms of energy and the history of its use. Admission is free. Get the power at 100 Shiloh Blvd., Zion. Call, (847)746-7080.

Stars to shine again at RAVINIA

Chicago area music lovers will be in musical heaven again in the Summer of 1997 when The Ravinia Festival, the oldest summer festival of the performing arts, will again welcome performances by the finest classical, jazz, folk, country and symphonic, as well as top "pop" artists from around the world.

In residence for eight out of the 12-14 weeks that Ravinia hosts the best in music will be the renown Chicago Symphony Orchestra performing on the festival grounds located on 36 beautiful acres in Highland Park with pavilion and lawn seats available. Indoor seats are priced from $15 to $60.

"Classical Music Goes to the Movies," by the Ravinia Festival Orchestra, featuring themes from movies like "Shine," "2001," and many others will open the fest on June 15 for the 61st year.

The '60s and '70s music of the Doobie Brothers will follow and so will Mary Chapin Carpenter. In July, Peter, Paul and Mary will bring back musical memories and Patti LaBelle will introduce new ones. Harry Belafonte will bring "Matilda" and many more of his favorites back on July 29.

In August, the great Tony Bennett, still one of the nation's biggest musical headliners after these many years, will treat Ravinia's audience to an evening of popular and classic songs. It will be Willie Nelson on Aug. 22. Poi Dog Pondering, a popular Chicago singing group, will take to Ravinia's stage on Aug. 23, and Garrison Keeler will perform on Aug. 31.

A Tchaikovsky Special, performed by the Chicago Symphony Orchestra, will close the 1997 season Sept. 1.

Whether you wish to experience classical and symphonic music at its finest, romantic and "pop" music like you've never heard it before, or chamber, jazz and folk music performed by the most talented artists in their field, a night to remember is one spent at Ravinia listening to music under the stars.

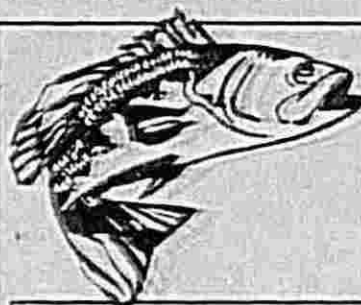

The Kraft Kids Concerts will continue during the 1997 Ravinia season.

Tickets are available by telephone, through the mail or by E-mail. Call (312) R-A-V-I-N-I-A for more information.—by

Summerfest celebrates 30th birthday

One of the most popular events of the summer, Milwaukee's annual Summerfest, remains one of the biggest entertainment gigs heavily attended by Wisconsinites and residents of surrounding states including multitudes from Lake County.

Summerfest 1997 will be held on the gorgeous Summerfest grounds located on the shores of wondrous Lake Michigan for 11 days, from June 26 to July 6.

As always, the entertainment that will emanate from Summerfest's many stages will include performances from many of the most popular musical stars of the decade performing in the Marcus Amphitheater, tops in the outdoor theater department. For 11 days the air around the festival will ring with the best sounds in rhythm and blues, rock and roll, jazz, big band, country, nostalgia and classic music.

Summerfest, though best known for offering the best music around, over the years, has also become a mecca for the best comedy stars.

New to the festival this year will be an exciting new restaurant to add to the 40 other eating places at Summerfest featuring every style of food imaginable. Tivoli Gardens, made up of trellis, archways and soft lighting, as well as a blinking starry sky, will offer some of the most delicious food served anywhere.

Also new will be the Harley Davidson Roadhouse, featuring a proud display of Milwaukee's own, Harley Davidson's products, some for sale, as well as an eclectic entertainment format.

The Sprecor Rhythm and Blues Stage will offer music from rhythm and blues to reggae, as well as featuring the exhilarating products of Sprecor, Wisconsin's own microbrewery.

The South Pavilion, near the east side of the south gate, will have a bi-level extension for this year's party.

Experience the Water St. Brewery, and the 30th Birthday Stage sponsored by Piggly Wiggly featuring music of past decades.

Starting off with a big bang, the grocery chain will also sponsor an opening night fireworks extravaganza at 10:30 p.m. on Thursday, June 26.

Separate tickets for concerts to be held at the Marcus Amphitheater during Summerfest will be on sale. Concert audiences must also purchase a entrance ticket.

The Dave Matthews Band will open the Summerfest musical festivities on stage of the amphitheater on June 26, followed by the southern California band, Los Lobos. The British rock act, Bush, will take the stage on June 27, followed by John Mellencamp on June 28 and Tina Turner on June 29, along with Cindy Loper.

On June 30, the Moody Blues will be joined on stage by the Milwaukee Symphony Orchestra. The County Crows along with Wallflower will appear in the amphitheater stage on July 3, and country singer Tim McGraw will make it a bang-up July 4. Rhythm and blues artists Blackstreet will be one of the bands featured and on July 6, Summerfest's musical offerings will close with "An Evening with James Taylor." # 'Big Fish' story starts with license

Before you get ready to dip your fishing pole into one of Lake County's numerous bodies of water, make sure you get an up-to-date Illinois fishing license.

At present, Illinois residents will pay $13 for a license, good for a year, while out-of-state residents will pay $24.50.

Most marinas, currency exchanges, Wal-Mart and Ace Hardware stores also sell licenses.

A list of a few places where licenses are sold include:

- Country Corner, Rte. 83 and Diamond Lake Rd., Mundelein, open 6 a.m. to midnight, seven days a week. Call, 566-5770.

Whither Lake County? Why we must protect our natural wealth

By KENNETH PATCHEN
Staff Reporter

Lake County is home to the greatest number of threatened and endangered wetland species of any county in the state at 66. What will impending growth do to fragment the county's biologically rich and diverse area?

Local environmental experts express optimism about the opportunity to protect the environment through growth management and regional planning.

While there are many environmental success stories related to the county's resources, it is the continuing loss of large area habitats which has come to characterize the fundamental seriousness of the county's preservation agenda.

Despite many positive environmental trends, activities, and organizations in Lake County, the expansive pattern of human settlement affects natural resources in a way considered to be "serious" by both national and local environmental professionals.

"Lake County is a very biologically rich and diverse area. There are a lot of high quality resources in this county. But overall, with the tremendous development pressures, some of these areas have led a tenuous existence," said Amy Hortsman, Natural Heritage Biologist for Lake County at the Illinois Department of Natural Resources.

The wealth of Lake County's natural resources was documented in 1978, when the State of Illinois published a natural areas inventory. The inventory is a baseline description of the species and areas in the state considered to be high-quality natural areas. At that time, researchers found 25,700 acres, less than 1 percent of the state's land and water area, which met the criteria established for high quality natural areas. Of that 1 percent, 66 sites in Lake County, ranging in size from 20 acres to a few hundred acres, are included in the high-quality category.

"You can say that there are a lot of excellent resources here, that many have been afforded some degree of protection, but many others have been destroyed outright or have been impacted to the point where they're no longer functional," Hortsman said. She further notes, there is an incredible diversity of natural communities in Lake County including forests; prairies; fens; sedge meadows and bogs.

According to Hortsman, the county is also on a biogeographic ecotone—an area where species from the north are reaching the edges of the southern extants of their range and species from the east are reaching the western edge of their range.

"All this diversity and this meeting of ranges results in species oc-

Lake County Forest Preserve works to restore, protect habitats

The Lake County Forest Preserve District owns a lot of the high quality natural land resources in Illinois.

"They have an excellent staff. They do some incredible work there: taking care of these resources, doing management and monitoring," said Amy Hortsman, natural heritage biologist for Lake County at the Illinois Department of Natural Resources.

The Lake County Forest Preserve currently owns 20,246 acres.

"There are so many factors that habitat fragmentation brings together—you create so much edge that species which are area-sensitive really have no place, no refuge from these edges. So it's kind of a hard issue to even address on a countywide basis because it really takes a landscape view of things (to manage these issues)," she said. "I think the Forest Preserve District has done a good job of trying to link up sites."

"We are fortunate to live in the newest part of the state geologically-speaking," said Jim Anderson, natural resources manager for the Lake County Forest Preserve. Anderson says the forest preserve's primary criteria when seeking land for acquisition is to find large uninterrupted parcels of property such as Rollins Savanna where there are unbroken habitats within a complex community to support plant and animal species.

"A key concern as we continue with future development is preserving the waterway corridor along the Des Plaines River and other watersheds," Anderson said. "We need to know where the water is going to go." Anderson said the forest preserve also tries to make connections between existing forest preserve holdings and state natural reserves to ensure the movement of animals between the habitats.

"The next step then is to restore the habitats to their natural vegetation to ensure they remain viable," Anderson said.

One of the ways the Forest Preserve maintains the sites is through the use of volunteers. There are currently 860 volunteers active with the Forest Preserve and the bulk of them work on natural resource projects such as prairie restoration.—By Rhonda Hetrick Burke

It is contrasted, at right, with a shot of the same area taken in 1995, which illustrates the growth in a nearly 40-year time span. Fremont Township is expected to be one of the fastest growing areas of the county in the next decade. By the year 2010 its population will have doubled its 1990 census.— Historical aerial photos courtesy of Syed Sikanter of Chicago Aerial Photo Services, Inc. (CAPS) of Des Plaines.

What are Lake County's natural resources?

What are the natural resources of Lake County?

It has four major watersheds: the Fox River, the Des Plaines River, Lake Michigan, and the Chicago River. The Des Plaines River, however, drains about two-thirds of the County. There is approximately 188 miles of streams and rivers in the County. There are 71 lakes in the county, about 11,717 acres. There are 203 wetlands in Lake County classified as ADID wetlands—wetlands for which a permit to fill will probably be denied by the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers.

The County is covered by 13 to 21 percent of forested area. About 11 percent of the county is currently classified as wetland cover, about 33,087 acres. Of that amount, emergent wetlands are the most abundant (18,525 acres), followed by wet meadow or shallow marsh (9,521) and deep marsh (9,003) areas.

Lake County has biologically significant stream segments. These include: Cedar Lake, Cross Lake, Deep Lake, East Loon Lake, West Loon Lake, Bangs Lake, Sullivan Lake, Wooster Lake, Turner Lake, Round Lake, and Grays Lake in the Fox River watershed. The Des Plaines River from the Wisconsin state line to Jackson and Mill Creeks is also biologically significant.

Illinois Nature Preserves include: Volo Bog, Pistakee Bog, Barrington

Bog, Lyons Prairie and Marsh, Tower Lakes Fen, Turner Lake Fen, and Wauconda Bog.

Regional planning necessary to avoid impact to Volo Bog

In Lake County, development of land, especially near high quality natural areas, is a concern of both professional environmentalists and county citizens.

The Volo Bog is registered by the U.S. Department of Interior as a National Natural Landmark. Greg Behm, superintendent of the site, said of development impacts on the bog, "We haven't noticed any change recently. We are always on guard with what is going on around us."

What is going on around the bog? There is a gravel pit to the east, a large development planned to the south on Sullivan Lake Road. A highway extension is proposed for the area at some future time. "Development is a major concern of ours," Behm says, although he does stress that he is not against development per se.

Bill Holleman, President of Lake County's Illinois Citizen Action, is one of many county citizens who watches development patterns. "We're very active in monitoring and watching activities that are detrimental in Lake County," Holleman said of his group. He sees specific development related impacts to county natural resources, for example, from projects such as the proposed extension of Illinois Route 53 by the Illinois State Toll Highway Authority.

"The highway will have a major impact on habitat," Holleman said. He cites wetlands, air pollution, and water pollution as other areas of impact from the highway. "Nothing is going to impact western Lake County more than having that highway come through.... I'm thinking of the population flow that will follow the building of that highway." With the people, he says, will come economic development, increased traffic volume, residential and industrial development, threats to wildlife, and threats to wildlife habitat.

If the continued development and suburbanization of Lake County will continue to fragment the remaining landscape, is there a basis for optimism for protection of the remaining resources?

The answer seems to be a qualified "yes", even from harsh critics of what is happening to natural areas because of development pressure. Horstman says, "In addition to the unique resources of Lake County, this area is also really special because of the tremendous volunteer efforts up here. That is something that just continues to impress me."

Holleman sees optimism in the potential of regional planning. "We are very desirous of seeing regional planning. The county is making a start in this. But, it's very slow."

Behm at the Volo Bog also sees potential with better local planning and expresses this personal view: "It's not that we don't have enough laws; it's that we don't enforce the ones that we do have." He thinks that better enforcement of existing laws would help a great deal.

County Board of Review to give exam for new members

In accordance with section 6-10 of the Property Tax Code (35 ILCS, 200/6-10), an examination will be conducted by the Illinois Dept. of Revenue for persons wanting to qualify as either a regular or additional member of the Lake County Board of Review. The examination will be given Wednesday, June 11, at 9 a.m. in the Assembly Room on the 10th Floor of the Lake County Administration Building located at 18 N. County St., Waukegan.

The regular Board of Review consists of three members appointed by the County Board. Two are selected from the party polling the highest number of votes in a contested race in the last county election and one member appointed from the party polling the second highest number of votes in the same election. The additional Board of Review members consist of individuals appointed by the County Board to hear complaints in an emergency situation.

WHITHER: Why we must preserve our natural resources

Horstman said.

Lake County is also seen as a leader in protection efforts. The Volo Bog, the Illinois Beach State Park, the Des Plaines River Forest Preserve acquisitions, the Libertyville Township open space preservation efforts, the Des Plaines River Wetlands Demonstration Project, and the Advanced Identification (ADID) of critical wetland areas by regional planning and enforcement agencies all serve as examples of the County's range of official natural resource concerns.

Lake County is habitat for 45 species of threatened and endangered vertebrate and invertebrate animals and 128 species of similarly classified plants.

Next week: In part 3 of Whither Lake County, we will examine the economic impact of growth and how it impacts municipal services as well as it benefits.

AT A GLANCE

A DIGEST OF STORIES MAKING HEADLINES THROUGHOUT OUR REGION

Teen charged with sexual assault

Gurnee—Gurnee police believe an incident where a 16-year-old allegedly sexually attacked an 8-year-old should not be cause for alarm from the general population.

"This is not a problem for Gurnee, it happens periodically in society. This is an isolated incident," Fred Witte, Gurnee police commander said.

The reported incident took place between late May 9 and early May 10. The 16-year-old was an acquaintance of the 8-year-old victim. The 16-year-old has been charged with criminal sexual assault and has been remanded to the Depke Juvenile Detention Center after a private hearing.

Navy retiree held in wife's death

Lake Villa Township—William Warrick III, 46, is being held in Lake County Jail after reportedly confessing to killing his wife, Paula, 42, by striking her with a baseball bat, according to the Lake County Sheriff's Department. He is being held in the Lake County Jail without bond.

Police were called to house at 25191 Lincoln Drive by the couple's 13-year-old-daughter May 11. Warrick told police he had a four-hour argument with his wife before striking her in the face with a bat.

Warrick was a 21-year veteran of the Navy and was retired. Paula worked at Naval Training Center, Great Lakes as a social services assistant for the New Parent Support Team.

Police found Warrick trying to comfort his wife when they arrived. She was taken to Northern Illinois Medical Center in McHenry. She was pronounced dead shortly afterward.

Business fights against gangs

Round Lake Beach—Kristof's Entertainment Center & World of Fun has finished remodeling and updated facilities to discourage negative behaviors and gang presence.

Tom Kristof, owner, said his business has increased security, adult supervision and has 24-cameras. He said one of the most effective measures was not allowing smoking in most areas.

He said many of the problems seemed to go down considerably when the smoking wasn't permitted six months ago. Kristof acknowledged he can't prevent everything. However, he added, any negative behaviors are dealt with quickly.

The addition of extreme glow blowing and increased non smoking areas are designed to improve the image of the center and make it more inviting for families.

Citizens seek straight answers

Wauconda—A number of residents from the Slocum Lake area are meeting with officials from the Illinois Environmental Protection Agency to get straight-forward answers to their questions. The meeting set for May 15 at the agency's headquarters in Springfield was coordinated by Carolyn Widmann, president of the Slocum Lake Management Association.

"We want to have a better understanding of the implications of the restrictive status," Widmann said. "We also want to hear straight from the agency what steps will be accepted and rejected for the short term and long term."

A major concern of the residents is to never have the village dump raw sewage into the lakes again, "because this is a public health hazard and it needs to be treated as such," Widmann said.

Kabbes leaves Fox Waterway

Fox Lake—After nearly five years as executive director, Karen Kabbes has tendered her resignation, to be effective June 30, to the Board of the Fox Waterway Agency.

The announcement came at the Agency's May 8 meeting, just prior to the reopening of a previously tabled motion to reduce Kabbes' $70,000 salary by $20,000.

"It became obvious the Board wanted to move in a different direction," Kabbes said, contrasting her emphasis on building partnerships between agencies with what she perceived as a desire by some board members to "concentrate on day-to-day business" such as dredging.

The original April 24 motion to cut Kabbes' salary had been supported by Agency Directors Marshall Lowe, Ron Baker and Stan Mill.

Agency Chairman Dr. William Dam described Kabbes' work as "marvelous" and added that board members' action against Kabbes "was very shortsighted."

In looking at the future, Kabbes said she was considering options in consulting engineering field.

Township may hire attorney

Gurnee—Warren Township's new supervisor may attempt to name the husband of a trustee as township attorney.

Sue Simpson suggested Ivan Tepper, a Waukegan lawyer, be named township attorney. Trustees sought a delay in the nomination and one was granted to the next Warren Township Board meeting on May 26.

"I have known Ivan from Arbor Vista, personal and homeowners association matters. I have a good working relationship with him. This is about having a comfort level with the possible civil litigation coming up," Simpson said.

Tepper is an independent lawyer who has done municipal work with Lindenhurst, Round Lake Beach and North Shore Sanitary Dist. He is the husband of Wendy Tepper, newly elected township trustee. Trustee Tepper was not present during this discussion.

QUOTE OF THE WEEK

"There's no greater thing than sitting in the bleachers on a sunny day; and I've been to a Bears game and I've been to the United Center when they introduced the Bulls. There's just nothing like being in the bleachers."

Scott T. Holland, Libertyville High School senior who had his essay on baseball published in "The Sporting News"

LHS student appears in magazine

Libertyville—"I am baseball. I am the endless summer; the crack of the bat, the taste of ballpark peanuts and hot dogs. I am a child's first view of the magnificent green grass."

It is with the preceding words that Scott T. Holland, a 17-year-old senior at Libertyville High School, opens an essay that was recently published in The Sporting News.

The essay, which was written in response to those who say baseball is dead, appeared in the April 21 issue of the magazine.

Trio arrested on drug charges

Vernon Hills—Vernon Hills police turned a routine traffic stop into a drug bust on Tuesday, May 6, arresting a trio of area men.

Arrested were Erik P. Johnson, 26, of Libertyville, Nickolas C. Anderson, 29, of Mundelein and Kenneth J. Jorstanje, 30, of Vernon Hills. Johnson and Anderson were both held overnight for bond hearings, Jorstanje was released on $1,000 bond.

New deputy fire chief named

Lake Zurich—Lifelong village resident David Wheelock was promoted to the rank of deputy chief of the Lake Zurich Fire/Rescue Department this week.

Wheelock, 36, was officially sworn in at the May 12 Committee of the Whole meeting, after having taken over the new position April 27, following a number of years of serving as administrative captain. He has been with the department since 1976 as a paramedic cadet.

Village to eradicate pest

Old Mill Creek—The Village of Old Mill Creek will get help covering the $900 price tag to wipe out the gypsy moth eggs discovered in their hardwood trees last fall. The U.S. Department of Agriculture is now hoping to cover the costs for at least two-thirds of the treatment by shifting budget funds within its federally allocated funding.

The gypsy moth, a pest responsible for defoliating hardwood trees, was discovered on a 5-acre parcel of land in Old Mill Creek.

Treatment of the infested area will most likely begin around the first week of June.

To prevent the spread of the moths, the infected area needs to be sprayed with pesticide via helicopter once a week for three weeks. Previously there have been outbreaks at Van Zelst Landscaping a few years ago, along Route 41 near the truck weight station and in Lake Villa Township last summer.

Water work lauded

Antioch—Volunteer lake monitors for Loon Lake and Petite Lake have received State recognition awards for their contribution to the statewide effort to identify water quality trends for lake habitat.

Receiving awards from the Illinois Environmental Protection Agency are Bill and Betty Holleman for Petite Lake and Robert Gerloff for East Loon Lake. Other area volunteers involved in the Volunteer Lake Monitoring Program are Walter and Debra Mazik on Loon Lake.

Mundelein cleans-up

Mundelein—Village residents will go forth Saturday to help clean up a community that is obtaining new Motorola jobs and new downtown redevelopment concept plans.

Rampant acts of kindness may be committed Saturday as the annual A-May-Zing Mundelein volunteer corps heads out into the community at 9 a.m. from Mundelein High School's cafeteria.

Grayslake museum complete

Grayslake—An antique Model T Ford truck from Grayslake Feed Sales, a horse-drawn hearse, an old grain wagon and a 1954 fire truck manufactured in Grayslake all have a new home at annex of the Grayslake Municipal Historical Museum. The museum will be dedicated May 18, 1:30 p.m. to the rear of the museum at 164 Hawley Street.

For many of the items it will be an unveiling of sorts. The museum has never has an area large enough to display these items and others which have been tucked away in various storage spaces; occasionally some have been brought out for parades or special outdoor exhibitions, but never on have the been permanently displayed.

Exchange foundation welcomes applications for funds

The Lake County Exchange Club Foundation is accepting grant request from groups for funds to be distributed.

The county club consists of men and women from five local Exchange Clubs. Exchange is a national service club which through the local clubs supports the prevention of child abuse as its top community service project.

Applications are available in writing to: Lake County Exchange Clubs Prevention of Child Abuse; foundation grant committee; c/o Skip McCann, 1512 Artius Parkway, Suite 203, Libertyville, 60048.

Applications will be available through the following Exchange Clubs: Gurnee Breakfast, The Exchange Club of Gurnee, Grayslake, Libertyville and Waukegan.

All applications must be postmarked on or before June 30 in order to be considered for funding. Funding decisions will be made no later than Sept. 30.

EDITORIALS

2 officials depict new breed era

Lake County may be experiencing the dawning of a new political era where elected officials are more prone to look ahead at the straight and narrow path of doing the public good rather than peering over their shoulders to watch out for cronies or curry favor with special interests.

Fitting the mold of a "new kind" of public official are Warren Township Supervisor Suzanne Simpson and County Board Rep. Bonnie Thomson Carter (R-Ingleside).

Simpson is making no bones about her indignation over the "patty cake" treatment being given by the Lake County judiciary to two persons connected with the Warren High Dept. scandal where taxpayers were bilked of $100,000 by five persons, one of whom has since died.

After secretary Bette Siegel and her daughter, Cayce, a part-time receptionist plea-bargained light sentences, Simpson is urging township trustees to pursue civil action to recoup the lost monies.

Carter is outspoken in her praise of Springfield environmental aides for their efforts in following through to "enforce and protect" Wauconda citizens from a village practice of dumping raw sewage into Bangs Lake during periods of heavy stormwater flow. Carter blames village officials for stonewalling Illinois Environmental Protection Agency cease and desist directives.

The energetic first term County Board member said she finds a "thoroughly cooperative bureaucracy" that will participate in a public meeting to be held soon to give residents the facts about sanitary treatment overloads and inferior stormwater management.

Fortunately for all, Simpson and Carter aren't alone. Their actions call out to other newly elected officials who share their views about serving the greater good, "Come along. There's plenty of work to be done."

'Mega' campuses not favorable

The debate continues to wage whether Libertyville High School District 128 reeling from Vernon Hills growth pressures should split or remain a single campus.

Supt. Donald Gossett says the district will be double-shifting by 2000 unless provisions for more space are made.

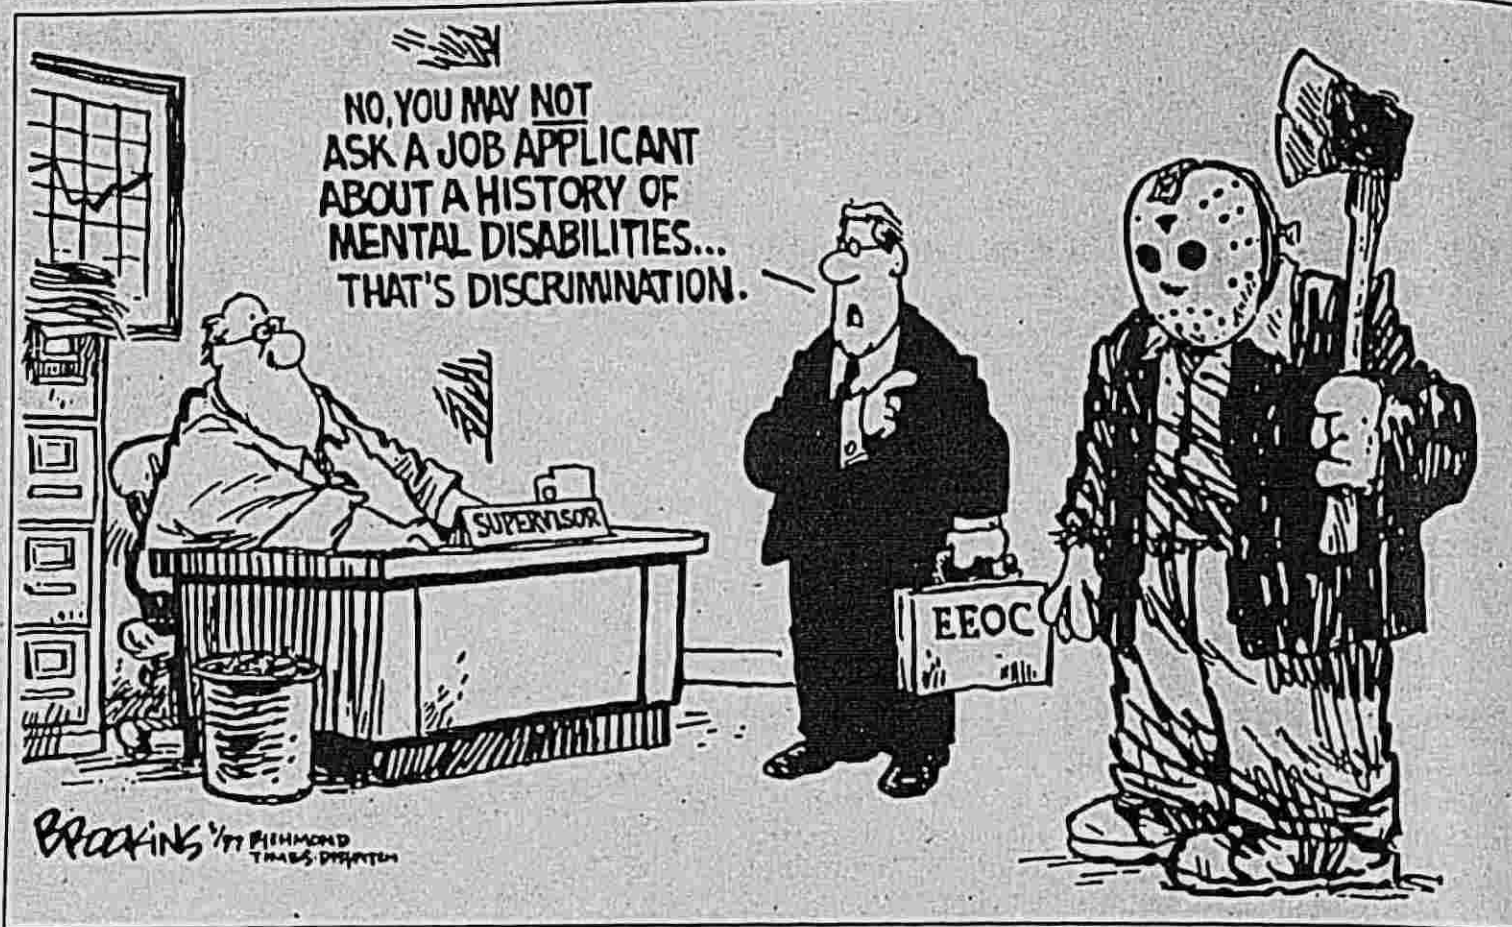

Despite a vocal minority espousing a single "mega campus," there is evidence that a majority of taxpayers and parents prefer separate campuses. School Board President Laurie Meyer says there is solid support for two four-year schools. Suggestions have even arisen to divide the district and let Vernon Hills go its separate way.

The argument in favor of a single campus is to enhance academic quality and avoid diluting extracurricular programs. School officials have characterized this stance as that of a "strong minority."

The history of secondary school district growth in Lake County has not favored the "mega campus" concept. During population growth following World War II, both Waukegan and Lake Forest split their campuses. Warren Township High School will do the same this fall. When growth overcame the one-time Ela-Vernon district, Lake Zurich and Stevenson high schools came into being. Libertyville High district itself once was hyphenated as Libertyville-Fremont. The flood of new families in Mundelein dictated a split into separate districts.

There are other examples of population growth and socio-academic reasons superceding academic considerations. That's how Round Lake High came into being in the 1950's where students previously attended Grant High School. Grayslake High opened in 1946 with its own campus after operating for nearly two decades paying tuition for students to attend high school in Gurnee and Libertyville.

Although financially hurtful at the time, residents of communities that split off established districts to form their own high school haven't regretted the action. Considering that Vernon Hills has tabbed the former Nike missile site for a local high school, the same undoubtedly would hold true today.

VIEWPOINT

Waterways exec jumps after pushed

Karen Kabbes, a respected water resource engineer, wasn't fired as executive director of the Fox Water Agency. But she was given a monumental shove by non-paid board members who thought she was overpaid with a salary of $70,000 per year and nearly $30,000 in perks and unresponsive to their directions.

Kabbes, who is credited with exerting a strong influence in getting the non-tax supported agency on a forward-moving dredging program, suspected that changes were in the making when directors hired Roy Gundelach recently as a $40,000 per year hands-on dredging supervisor. Gundelach has interesting credentials. Long-time owner of a Fox Lake canvas shop and close to scores of Chain O'Lakes boaters, Gundelach once served as an agency director. He also is the ex-brother-in-law of the agency chairman, Dr. William C. Dam.

When directors talked about cutting her pay $20,000 a year, Kabbes said, in effect, "Take your job and have it." Well liked by purse-string bureaucrats in Springfield and popular with U.S. Army Corps of Engineers aides who control dredging permits, Kabbes left word that she has other pursuits in mind and that she and her husband, also an engineer, are thinking about starting a family.

County Board Rep. Judy Martini (R-Antioch), who resigned two years ago as a waterways director when elected to the County Board, expressed dismay that directors were thinking of dumping Kabbes. She called a change in management "very bad timing."

Martini also took issue with opinions that Kabbes was overpaid, pointing out that Ward Miller, director of the Stormwater Management Agency, makes close to $90,000 per year including benefits and a vehicle. Miller reportedly is due for a raise. Martini pointed out that other county department heads make between $98,000 and $117,000 per year. Martini said water resource engineers with no supervisory responsibilities can command between $63,000 to $83,000 per year. Dam and the six-member agency board are put in office to do the right thing. But keeping the Springfield money and Army Corps permits flowing isn't going to be any easy with Kabbes out of the picture.

BILL SCHROEDER
Publisher

WORTHWHILE LAG

Tony Sutton, the talented and globe-trotting Brit who designed Lakeland Newspaper's new look, bounded into the newsroom to start the week when the rest of us still were shaking out Monday morning cobwebs. "Take an early flight?" we inquired about Tony's bright-eyed arrival from his home base in Toronto. "No problem. Beneficial jet lag," rejoined Sutton. He explained his body still thought it was 4 a.m. when he awoke at his O'Hare Hotel after overnighing following an excursion from South Africa where he had been on a newspaper design mission.

WORDY CAMPAIGN

In their effort to curb cruelty to animals, Wauconda Rodeo protesters may be opening themselves up to charges of cruelty to law enforcement officers. Greg Campbell, an animal rightist from Barrington, is guaranteeing stiff resistance to officers out to maintain order at this year's event Friday, Saturday and Sunday, July 11, 12, and 13.

Campbell describes police attempts to silence legal protesting as an "assault," "collusion," "misconduct" and a "conspiracy." Strong words for a weak case.

WELL SAID

Doug Ploss of Antioch, a commercial artist and graphics designer, loves to dream up off-beat business cards. I treasure a couple of his latest. One of the cards Doug presents these days says, "My Card." (No name.) The same card contains a fingerprint and is inscribed, "my fingerprint." The other card, probably for someone disgruntled with their boss, is imprinted: "So I said to my boss, 'If I have to work for an idiot, I may as well go in business for myself!'"

ONE MAN'S FAMILY

Grandpa took a couple of scoldings at the hands of the sprites last week. Erika was upset because I absent-mindedly ate half a cookie she was saving. John said I should have asked him before finishing an open carton of orange juice he was saving in the refrigerator.

California Congressman Sonny Bono will be the keynote speaker for the 35th anniversary event.

"Due to Congressman Bono's high stature, we anticipate our most successful dinner ever," said David Amory, chairman for the dinner. Amory hopes to exceed the record crowd of 671 guests that attended the Federation's 1995 spring dinner.

Furthering justice

The recipients of the 1997 Liberty Bell Awards were presented by Chief Judge Raymond J. McKoski during the law day awards ceremony held early this month. The Liberty Bell Award is given to individual who are dedicated to furthering the administration of justice in Lake County.

Honorees were the late Larry Bond of Waukegan and Joseph V. Collina.

Bonds began his career with the county in 1981 in the deferred prosecution program and taught traffic school for the College of Lake County. He was killed in a traffic accident earlier this year.

Collina, the Lake County Public Defender, has held his post since 1991 and worked in the Lake County State's Attorneys office from 1986 to 1991. He has written and edited law books and is the current editor of "The Docket," the monthly journal of the Lake County Bar Association.

Depke enjoys new role

Former Warren Twp. Supv. Robert Depke took in the first meeting of new Supv. Sue Simpson's administration Monday. Depke, former Lake County Board Chairman, seems to like the new role as private citizen. He said it felt "great" to be part of the audience.

He declined to seek a re-election bid after 36 years on the job as supervisor.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Should Vernon Hills create own high school district?

If Libertyville High School is in need of additional space then let them come to us with a proposal that involves adding on to the present building on Rte. 176. The football/athletic field could certainly be relocated to a remote location somewhere in the township to allow an expansion of the present building but the efficiencies of operating just one building are much greater than operating two buildings. Two separate campuses would involve the duplication of far too many facilities at far too great a cost.

If the real problem is that the population of Vernon Hills now requires a high school of its own, let Libertyville High School divide its district and let Vernon Hills fend for itself with a high school of its own with its own school district totally independent of the Libertyville High School.

The taxpayers of this Township are not willing to support a second campus for Libertyville High School and this has been shown by no less than the defeat of three referendums.

Irresponsible journalism

I am appalled by the Daily Herald's Fence Post question of Thursday, May 8 asking "do you approve of Lake Zurich Village President Jim Kriskche's idea to scale back the police department's efforts to catch drunken drivers?"

It's no wonder Lake Zurich's residents, businesses and police department were and are so divided and will continue to be divided with such irresponsible journalism like this.

Five months ago, I joined Mayor Kriskche and the Village First Party Campaign as a volunteer, sitting in on many meetings, canvassing over 1,500 homes in trying to get the issues out and, never once did Mayor Kriskche even suggest we discuss scaling back the police efforts to catch drunken drivers nor was this ever discussed as one of his goals.

Mayor Kriskche's reputation speaks for himself. He was commissioner of over 2,000 Little Leaguers, remains president of the minor Leagues and manages the Little League Tigers. He has a wife, two children, family and friends he cares about deeply, along with 17,000 plus residents that he wants to keep safe so, why would you possibly think he would want to scale back drunken driver arrests?

I have the utmost confidence that Mayor Kriskche will work with our fine police department successfully, which will stop such false questions like this from coming out again.

Where roads cost less

Governor Edgar's drive to raise state income tax to improve and equalize schools in Illinois has hit a snag. State officials have discovered that road building in Illinois is taking a greater share of the State Budget than anticipated. It also takes a greater share than paid by other states.

Illinois lawmakers are requesting an audit of road costs. The investigation has already been discovered that we pay more for asphalt than is paid in Indiana.

General concern for the plight of American children drove me long ago to the study of governmental costs. Roads are a good example of budgetary overcharges and dislocations.

For example, the major costs for road, bridges, snow removal and tree cutting along roads is budgeted by New England townships (called towns). The average cost of a half dozen of roads in those towns in $7,500 per mile per year for those services. Counties and states in that area budget much less than we do for local roads. (Connecticut has no counties and there are fewer state highways).

How do townships in Illinois compare? Grant Township Road Commissioner budgets $17,500 per mile for identical services.

In addition, also consider the fact that the villages of Fox Lake, Round Lake, Volo and Lakemoor also expend funds for roads, bridges, tree cutting and snow removal in Grant Township.

Is there any wonder that there is a pinch for Illinois schools and other worthy programs? I urge the Illinois lawmakers who are demanding this investigation to range farther than Indiana for answers. Those 300 year old New England towns, where people vote yes or no for each item of the local budget, pay much less real estate taxes than we in Grant Township pay for the same services. The difference goes to their schools.

Area code fiasco

industry for a new device to improve our living. It is strange the same degree of innovative thinking is not applied to the area code quandary.

Not all that long ago, we were all cozy in our 312 area code. Then came along the invasion of pagers and cell phones. Quickly the available number pool had been depleted, which led to the 708. Someone asked then why the change could not be applied to cell phones and pagers. There was never a satisfactory reply, and 708 was rammed down the throats of suburbanites.

No one seemed to anticipate the huge appetite for pagers and cell phones. Soon 708 was soon deemed inadequate. The "630/847" was the "only" answer. Strange that when this change occurred many cell phones stayed 708. The result has been a confusing maze which has found customers unnecessarily inconvenienced. Many businesses have suffered enormously, with some being forced to change their entire number. Is this really necessary? The answer is "no" it is not.

How is it that an industry so full of ideas becomes brain dead when considering the relatively simply problem of the area codes. How is it that the Illinois Commerce Commission fails to act responsibly? Perhaps the only hope is the Citizen's Utility Board which consistently has it finger on the pulse of what is best for Illinois consumers.

The message to send is that we don't need or want any more area code changes. Assign a new one to cover all cell phones and pagers. Remove all cell phones and pagers from the existing area codes with all those numbers being returned to the pool. That is the best method of solving the problem, and what the consumers should demand.

Dad's dreaded nursing home move is fine

Their dad, Dr. Joe, is one of my all-time favorite guys. He's in his 90s now and still healthy — a monument to clean living, his son Jerry says with a proud smile.

But Dr. Joe is suffering the memory loss that accompanies aging. Jerry is beginning to wonder if the subsiding memory of old-timers might actually be a defense mechanism for coping. If Dr. Joe fully realized he needed to be consigned to nursing care he might be crestfallen. But it turns out he's actually happy in his new friendly and comfortable environment.

Dr. Joe was a very popular dentist during his 40-some working years and apparently took excellent care of his own choppers. On his first night in the nursing home a nurse's aide told him he had to take out his teeth and put them in a water glass on the nightstand.

Dr. Joe told the woman he couldn't do that, so she reached into his mouth and tried to remove them herself.

"She didn't realize," Jerry told me with a chuckle, "my dad still has his own full set of 32 perfect teeth."

That figure, knowing the impeccable person he always has been. And the nursing home folks tell the brothers their dad is still the consummate, courteous gentleman.

He always was a very religious man and Jerry feels a bit sad that maybe he doesn't remember that. Well, we're quite sure God remembers.

It seems like yesterday but it was more than 30 years ago that I played some unforgettable golf with Dr. Joe. We belonged to the same country club. He was our area's senior champion and although I was much younger I could never beat him.

More important than who won, of course, was the pleasure and camaraderie of spending four hours with him in what golfers feel is a heavenly milieu.

A couple of years ago I was lucky enough to join a posse of 20 golfers including Dr. Joe's son, Jerry. Had we not met by chance in that group I doubt I ever would have seen Jerry again. I never would have gotten to know him and enjoy seeing he is a chip off that marvelous old block. Nor would I have learned his dad, in his 90s, was doing fine. I wrote Dr. Joe a letter about the good old days and he wrote back.

The last time I saw him was 25 years ago; he would have been about 68. It was during a golf tournament, naturally. We were playing in separate threesomes.

I was having a bad year — I'm not talking about golf, I'm talking about life. Things weren't going well.

Dr. Joe spotted me across a couple of fairways, left his own game briefly and came trotting over. He put an arm around my shoulders and said, "Our family just wants you to know we're with you."

In my letter a couple of years ago I told him how much that beautiful gesture, that beautiful gesture, has always meant to me.

Now, I think it's my turn. I want to go and see him. He may not remember me this time, but I just want once more to be in the company of that marvelous man.

I'm sure he'll flash that warm, friendly smile I remember so well, so I'll get to see those terrific teeth, too.

Lip is great!

Your Lipservice column is a superb way for readers to voice their opinion. Your anonymous phone-in column allows citizens from surrounding towns to express their concern or anger regarding an issue. It is fair that citizens be allowed to voice their opinion about their neighbors or public officials. Many concerned citizens write officials regarding issues, and many letters go unanswered, some even unheard. I think that your paper providing this service allows citizens to be heard, and to let their frustrations be known. Which in turn, improves our communities.

Nice behavior

This is to the person I'll call "LTL COLT" who was driving in front of me on Route 173 in Antioch in bumper-to-bumper traffic on May 12 around 5 p.m. I'm sure in your warped mind you thought I was tailgating you. As we were crawling at about 5 m.p.h., I feel I was at a more than safe distance behind you. Going at such a slow speed, I had plenty of room to brake and stop if needed. I am a very safe driver, and have an absolutely spotless driving record after 16 years of driving. Can you say the same? I doubt it. Someone who is volatile enough to overreact as you did by purposely driving to the side of the road next to me and using profanity (in front of an impressionable 2-year-old child, I might add) needs a few sessions of anger therapy. By the way, I might be overweight, but at least I can go on a diet—you'll always be ugly.

Let 'em do their job

Attending the first meeting of the new Fox Lake mayor and his new trustees, we were appalled by obstructionist behavior of the old guard people, namely Thillen, Meyer, and Folman. It's hoped that these three recognized their old friends lost the election and it's time to try and help the new mayor serve our village. Voting no to everything is a no-brainer and indicates their personal feelings as opposed to helping conduct the business of the village as they should. The new mayor is entitled to the opportunity the voters have given him. Let's all help and pull together, including the old guard.

Leisure Village

Save the dandelions

I just want to have something to say about the dandelions. To me they are spring, and the most colorful flowers of spring. I can't understand why people spend millions of dollars a year to try to ruin the site of dandelions.

Dig it, man

My name is Jennifer Hart and I'm with Grass Lake School. We're going to have a Retrofest. Groovy costume contests, dancing to '60s music, and fun for all ages. This is a fun fair with a twist. But wait, Daddy-o, there's more. Have pizza and dogs, and a cup of coffee in our groovy coffeehouse. This will be May 18 from 3 to 7 p.m. at Grass Lake School in Antioch. This is to honor the graduates of 1997. Poetry by children will also be read in the coffeehouse.

First come, first served

For "Shame on you," from May 8, I say wake up. Life is first come, first served. Come early, come often. Don't blame this on McDonald's. If you want this or anything else for your kids, make the effort to get out early and get in line. You should realize that Beanie Babies are a hot item and in great demand. "What is this world coming to?" you quote. If you don't know, look around you.

You deserve it

I think it's a riot seeing all these complaints about people paying higher taxes for school referendums. Especially since it's the same people who didn't come out and vote or voted for the same ones in Island Lake and Wauconda who caused all the problems in the first place, rapid growth and not taxing the developers. So, you got what you deserved!

Give us a break

I'm calling in response to "Quit whining" on May 8. We're not seniors yet, but our kids are all grown. I have news for you, those older folks paid for their kids with registration fees, taxes, and more taxes. You didn't pay for their kids or our kids to go to school. They've gotten cheaper, you say. Why? Could it be their income was cut in half with retirement, but not their taxes, mortgage, and daily living costs? You want to know who's paying for their Social Security and Medicare? It's coming from the money we ourselves earned in 20 to 50 years of working. If it doesn't exist when your kids need it, it's because people like you scammed the system for money you didn't deserve, or were too lazy to work for it to begin with. How many kids have you got that you want us to educate and support? Better yet, are you even married, or are you getting welfare? Do me a favor and get off old folks' back. They've done their part and deserve a break. If the government won't give it to them, won't you?

This message is for residents of Antioch, Lake Villa, and southern Wisconsin, etc. Please help keep line dancing close to our communities by participating in the open line dancing and lessons each Thursday evening at the Triple J Steakhouse located on Route 83 in Trevor, Wis. Try it, you'll like it!

Antioch

Do it right

This is in response to the comments about real estate taxes. We are senior citizens and we work hard to do more than our fair share to support the schools. The problems here are there are wealth homeowners whose homes are underassessed. There are some homes who are overassessed. Real estate tax bills are very unequal, depending on where you live. You shop at Gurnee Mills and you help support their system, not yours. Education funding is unequal. Poor students deserve good education also. The current system of taxing is unfair and in some instances, cruel. No one should lose their home because of drop in income, increased taxes or health problems. The system needs improvement. The funding should be collected fairly and distributed fairly.

Round Lake

Not fair

This is in response to "Quit whining." You shouldn't draw conclusions about the demographics and dispositions of people who don't share your opinions. My wife and I are middle-aged and never had any children. We just got another whopping tax increase of which 70 percent went for schools. If this keeps up, we'll have to sell our home. I agree that this country's youth deserves good education and don't mind chipping in. But not when it jeopardizes my right to own a home. You say we're all in this together? Why am I paying so much when there are hordes of renters with children not paying a dime? I've been paying into Social Security all my life and it probably won't be around when I retire. I agree with the caller who said that school taxes should be based on the number of children per household. I would add some twists: every household should pay for one child minimum, people who rent should pay school taxes, and we need an investigation of the Lotto, which is supposed to support education. Now there is a crock!

Minor correction

To whoever wrote the article on page A3 about former mayors of Lake Zurich concerning James Kay, he worked for a piano company in Lake Zurich and never owned a furniture shop. Maybe you should correct that.

Make an effort

This is in regard to a Lipservice that was printed May 2 about the unfriendly neighbor in Silver Oaks. Friendly neighbor, we moved to Silver Oaks subdivision. I don't know what you're talking about with snobby neighbors. All of our neighbors are friendly, in fact our cul-de-sac has a cookout every summer so we can get to know our neighbors. Maybe you could organize something like that. You would probably find a lot more than a handful of nice neighbors.

Lake Villa

Looking good

Thank you, Mayor Pappas, and the newly elected board members. After one village board meeting, things are already looking up for Fox Lake. Fox Lake Forward is not just a catchy slogan. Thanks for hearing what the people in town have been saying!

This is how it works

I wanted to respond to the person asking about the lottery and school funding. In Springfield, they told us that the lottery would help fund schools, but there's never an accounting for lottery funding. As I understand it, this is how it works. The state legislature allots a million dollars for schools. Outside of this, the lottery kicks in. If the lottery receives a half million in profits, this goes into the school fund, thereby freeing up that same amount in the original allotment to be used somewhere else in the budget. The schools still get a million dollars. If the lottery brings in a million dollars, all of it goes to the school fund, thereby freeing up the original allotment, and the politicians can say the schools are fully funded by the lottery. If the lottery brings in two or ten times the original allotment, the schools allotted amount is still a million dollars. I think we should have a true accounting of the lottery money before politicians tell us we need higher taxes for schools. They haven't benefitted one cent because of lottery, but the politicians really have.

Rude neighbors

I live in Lake Zurich and our neighbors are very close to each other. I have so many rude neighbors, I find it hard to believe. Dogs howl and kids scream outside your window. I think we need to have laws in Lake Zurich where people can only wear radio earphones outside.

The seven Ds in destiny

Destiny is not a matter of chance; it is a matter of choice; It is not a thing to be waited on, it is a thing to be achieved.—William Jennings Bryan

Destiny, according to my dictionary, is the inevitable or necessary succession of events that will happen to any person. However, I agree with William Jennings Bryan that we play a role in our own destiny. I believe through our actions and choices we can change our lives.

Many factors shape our destiny. The environment, our heritage and the era in which we are born to name a few. We have little control over these factors. However, there are other elements in our lives over which we do have control. Among these are the seven Ds.

Taking control of our destiny
• Dream big dreams. Our dreams are the hopes and aspirations of our conscious mind. Robert H. Goodard said, "It is difficult to say what is impossible, for the dream of yesterday is the hope of today and the reality of tomorrow."

Our dreams are the first step toward our destiny. What we hope for can become reality if we are willing to put actions to our thoughts.

• Desire only the best. Desire is the next step in achieving the results we want in life. If our dreams are sincere and worthwhile, we can develop an earnest desire to fulfill them.

Edgar F. Roberts said, "Every human mind is a slumbering power until awakened by a keen desire and by definite resolution to do." Desire will lead to action.

• Direction comes from desire. Those things we earnestly desire, establish our direction in life. Education, marriage and career choices point us toward our destiny.

It is critical to note that we can take charge of our plan. Our dreams and desires, when taken from abstract thoughts to written goals, become the framework of our destiny.

• Difficulties will come. It is inevitable that somewhere between dreams and destiny problems will arise. We can let these difficulties overcome us or we can choose to overcome them.

I believe we strengthen our desire and spirit when we overcome hardships. Our success is more meaningful when we've met and conquered problems. The Roman philosopher Seneca said, "Difficulties strengthen in mind, as labor does the body."

• Determination overcomes difficulties. Ecclesiastes 9:10 says, "Whatsoever thy hand findeth to do, do it with thy might..." If you are firm in your intentions, you will accomplish all you set out to do.

When you are determined, it matters not what others say or think. Those who say it can't be done are always surprised by those who do it.

• Diligence is the forerunner of good fortune. Proverbs 21:5 says, "The plans of the diligent lead surely to abundance..." Diligence means to be preserving and careful in your work. It also implies positive results accomplished by hard work and steady effort.

Menander of Athens said, "He who labors diligently need never despair; for all things are accomplished."

Landmark awards college tuition

To celebrate its grand opening of Washington Village in Grayslake, Landmark Homes teamed up with neighbor The College of Lake County to offer free college tuition.

Landmark Homes entered potential homebuyers who visited Washington Village in a drawing, the winner to receive free tuition good for up to one year and 30 credit hours through the fall semester of 1998 (to a maximum value of $1,600).

Chris Salinas of Long Grove was the lucky winner. Salinas, a secretary for Dean Witter Discover Card, said that she is going to share the college tuition with her daughter. They both plan to start classes this summer and are considering courses ranging from art appreciation to computer training to business management.

Landmark Homes' Washington Village community offers all-new plans that include seven classic single-family home styles and three distinctive manorhomes.

Washington Village is located on Washington Street across from the College of Lake County in Grayslake.

Bigger 'Welcome' comes to Lake County

Welcome Wagon representatives ready to greet newcomers

Staff Reporter

You just moved into Lake County and besides getting all those boxes unpacked, your biggest problem is that you really don't know where anything is, like the nearest and best shopping areas, where your local governmental buildings are, where to find medical services, and so much more, information necessary to your daily living.

Then, as you were grabbing a bite to eat between boxes, you glanced through your local Lakeland Newspaper and came across an add for Welcome Wagon directing newcomers to call (800)424-MOVE for a visit from your local Welcome Wagon representative who will help you and your family adjust to your new community by bringing you local civic and cultural information along with many free gifts from area retailers and services who want you to learn what they have to offer.

Right now the existing 140 Welcome Wagon representatives in the Chicagoland area are busy themselves welcoming a huge expansion in their numbers. When the expansion, which will go through northeast Lake County, is finished there will be 150 additional Welcome Wagon representatives.

At present there are 17 reps greeting hundreds of new families in Deerfield, Fox Lake, Grayslake, Gurnee, Highland Park, Lincolnshire/Halifax, Lake Forest/Lake Bluff, Lake Villa, Lake Zurich, Lindenhurst, Vernon Hills and Wildwood.

According to Sharon Beyer, Welcome Wagon's regional vice president who is in charge of the Chicagoland expansion, "We are looking to put another 20 representatives to cover other Lake County communities such as Antioch, Barrington, Libertyville, Mundelein, Round Lake, Wadsworth, Wauconda/Island Lake, Waukegan and Zion/Winthrop Harbor.

Since 1928, Welcome Wagon, a subsidiary of Stamford, Conn.-based CUC International (NYSE: CU), a leading technology-driven membership-based consumer service company, has helped more than 25 million families across the country adjust to new communities with representative visiting new movers, new parents, newly engaged couples and new citizens.

NYSE-CU, rated the number one advertising and marketing company by Fortune magazine, provides more than 66.3 million consumers worldwide with access to home shopping, travel, insurance, automobile, dining, home improvement, lifestyle clubs, checking account enhancement and discount coupon programs.

Each visit lasts approximately one hour while your Welcome Wagon representative disseminates a load of goodies from area businesses and tries to answer any informational questions you have.

To request a Welcome Wagon visit, call (800)424-MOVE.

Right now there is a need for representatives in the Lake County area. Anyone interested in meeting new people, working on a flexible schedule and having the feeling that "you are your own boss," can become a Welcome Wagon representative.

Call (800)424-MOVE for an interview.

Lake County 'Tour of Homes' begins May 17

Landmark Homes at Washington Village in Grayslake is featured on the Lake County Tour of Homes

Fresh cut grass, the Cubs at Wrigley Field, and the Lake County Tour of Homes all are signs that summer is right around the corner. The Lake County Tour of Homes starts Saturday, May 17 and runs through Sunday, May 25. Because the tour ends on Memorial Day weekend, several models in the tour will remain open on May 26 for visitor's convenience.

Tour-goers will again have more than 50 model homes to visit in 40 different communities throughout Lake County. As always, the tour will feature both single family homes and townhomes, with prices ranging from the low $100,000 to over $1 million.

The tour offers prospective homebuyers the opportunity to visit a variety of communities and areas in Lake County as well as tour the spectacular model homes.

There is never an admission charge to visit any of the homes in the tour.

A highlight of this year's tour is the luxury custom home named the Charity House in Ivanhoe Estates. The Charity House was built by members of the Home Builders Assn. of Lake County and when sold, all net proceeds will be donated to national and local charitable organizations.

For more information about the 1997 Tour of Homes, call the Home Builders Assn. of Lake County at 816-4663.

True Value becomes TruServ

Stan Livermore, of the Antioch True Value Store, is now part of a newly renamed company, TruServ Corporation. It is the world's largest wholesaler of hardware and related products aimed at the do-it-yourself market.

By an overwhelming majority, the independent owners of True Value and ServiStar Coast to Coast voted to consolidate their buying power and resources into one company.

TruServ's dominant position as the largest wholesaler will enable it to negotiate for better prices on merchandise and drive costs out of the distribution and warehousing aspects of the business.

Livermore believes the merger will give him more buying power than ever.

"This is needed to compete in today's marketplace of chain stores and giant home centers. This power translates into lower prices for customers, without sacrificing the level of service that our store is known for," stated Livermore.

BUSINESS NOTES

Starting a business workshop at CLC

A one-day workshop on starting a small business will be offered by the College of Lake County Small Business Development Center from 6:30 to 10 p.m., May 21 in room C003 at CLC's Grayslake campus.

"Starting a Business in Illinois" will be conducted by Rona Bezman, CPA, of Bezman Hirsch and Associates in Deerfield, and Atty. Marc Pullman.

The workshop will cover important steps relating to starting a business, including legal forms, licensing, taxes, legal issues and funding opportunities through state and federal agencies. The cost is $15 per person or $20 per

Accountants plan barcoding program

The technical session of the Illinois Northeast Chapter of the Institute of Management Accountants will be held Wednesday, May 21 at Parkway Restaurant in Waukegan. Dinner will be served at 6:30 p.m. with the program immediately following.

The topic for the program is "Industrial uses of Barcoding," the speaker will be from Zebra Technologies, a leader in the barcoding market. Persons wishing to make dinner reservations should call Donna Cardwell at 938-8277 by 11 a.m., May 20.

plished by diligence and labor." The hardest granite is worn away by running water, the mightiest oak is felled by repeated ax blows and the longest journey is completed one step at a time. Diligence begets a successful destiny.

• Destiny is the result of a lifetime of actions. Charles Reade said, "Sow an act and you reap a habit. Sow a habit and you reap a character. Sow a character and you reap a destiny."

Conway Farms to host NCAA Golf

Visitors to Conway Farms in Lake Forest will be in good company during Memorial Day weekend. The holiday marks the beginning of the NCAA Golf Championships being held at the beautiful Conway Farms Golf Club, as well as the celebration of the 100th Anniversary of this prestigious event.

Rated by GolfDigest as one of the top five new private clubs in the country, the Conway Farms Golf Club is a links-style course designed by Tom Fazio. The championships are a four-day event beginning Wednesday, May 28 and concluding Saturday, May 31.

The opening two rounds will be comprised of 30 teams and the field will be pared to 15 teams and nine individuals for the final two rounds. The individual and team championships will be crowned on Saturday afternoon.

"We're excited that Conway Farms Golf Club is hosting this distinguished tournament and welcome visitors to stop by and see some of the best collegiate stars," says Alexander D. Stuart, president of Conway Farms. A hospitality tent for visitors will be located on the 16th fairway and guests are encouraged to drop by for some refreshments and enjoy watching the stars of tomorrow.

Conway Farms is an upscale community of custom homes and luxury town homes built around the award-winning, private 18-hole Conway Farms golf course. Buyers who purchase a lot can choose from a variety of builders and customize their one-of-a-kind home within the Lake Forest architectural tradition.

The Conway Farms land plan tailored to maximize views of the golf course, green spaces and ponds yet provide harmony between the residences and the open space within the community.

Located off Rte. 60 on Conway Farm Drive, the community is situated east of I-94 and west of Rtes. 4 and 41.

PEOPLE IN THE NEWS

Morton Mfg. promotes three executives

Morton Manufacturing Co., Libertyville, has announced the promotions of three executives. According to William C. Morton, chairman, these moves were made to further strengthen Morton Manufacturing for future growth. The promotions include the following:

Jeffery W. Covert was promoted to president from vice president. A Morton employee for nine years, Covert previously held positions with International Harvester and Dresser Industries. A graduate of Purdue Univ. with a BS in mechanical engineering, Covert and his wife Susan reside in Libertyville.

Covert

Ogden

Hendricks

Michael K. Ogden was promoted to executive vice president from vice president. Ogden joined Morton Mfg. in 1990. Prior to joining Morton, Ogden held several positions with Fullerton Metal Co. over a span of 12 years and served as the personnel officer for the Village of Winnetka for six years. A graduate of Ohio State Univ., Ogden and his wife Nancy, and their two daughters, Katie and Christie, reside in Libertyville.

Michael D. Hendricks was promoted to vice president, sales from sales manager. Hendricks has been with Morton Mfg. for five years. Prior to joining the company, he held several positions with U.S. Gypsum Co. and owned and operated a manufacturing rep business.

Schreiber honored for employee spirit

Nancy Schreiber was honored with the Spirit of Service Employee of the Year Award during the 67th Annual Convention of the Illinois Credit Union League held at the Chicago Hilton and Towers. The award recognized the special achievements of a credit union employee who has carried the "people helping people" philosophy of credit unions beyond the doors of their office and their communities.

Schreiber is vice president of North Shore Gas Credit Union in Waukegan. She has been employed at the credit union since January of 1985.

Inducted into Hall of Fame

John "Jay" McCaughey, has been inducted into the Illinois Credit Union Hall of Fame.

The Illinois Credit Union Hall of Fame, established in 1996, pays homage to those individuals who have made special contributions to the credit union movement in Illinois. The inductees into the Illinois Credit Union Hall of Fame have given of their time, talents and ingenuity.

McCaughey's name will join a permanent Hall of Fame display housed in the lobby of the Illinois Credit Union Center in Naperville.

McCaughey is president of the Warren Newport Credit Union in Gurnee and has been a proponent of and active participant in the credit union movement for more than 40 years. He is a retired postmaster. In 1956, he was elected treasurer of Warren Twp. Credit Union. He operated the credit union from his home for many years.

Active in his Chapter, McCaughey has served as Chapter Chairman and treasurer. Currently he represents the Doig Chapter on the Illinois Credit Union League Board of Directors.

FINANCIAL FOCUS

Want to be a satisfied investor? Be an educated investor!

Whom do you consider most trustworthy: your senator, your pharmacist or your stockbroker? The Gallup organization's annual poll on honesty and ethics shows that Americans rank stockbrokers above congressmen, senators and car salesmen when it comes to credibility. That's good news for brokers and their customers. The bad news for them is that 16 other professions ranked higher than stockbrokers.

The securities industry works hard to monitor its members and maintain a positive public image. Still, there are those who believe the industry is inhabited mostly by people and companies who put their own interests ahead of the customer's. With people like Michael Milken and Ivan Boesky making headlines, that kind of negative perception can be expected.

But these few high-profile cases are extreme examples of the bad apple in the bunch. Though the exploits of a few embarrass the entire industry and cause some to lose faith, surveys show that many people prefer the services of a professional when it comes to handling their investments, and most are happy with the service they receive. In fact, recent research shows that 47 percent of the public is likely to consult investment representatives or professional planners for financial advice. Of those who use a full-service broker, 71 percent are "very satisfied" with the service, 26 percent are "somewhat satisfied," and only 3 percent describe themselves as "somewhat or very dissatisfied." Those are good numbers for any industry.

What can you do to be one of the "very satisfied"? Surveys show that people want the same things from their broker that they desire from other professionals they call upon — plenty of information and regular communication. Those who get them are usually happier with their service.

The securities industry has responded by stepping up education efforts for brokers and the public. Says John L. Steffens, former Securities Industry Association president, "An educated investor is our best customer." Financial-services firms really do want customers to share in investment decisions, and most offer investor-friendly explanations of products to make that involvement easier.

Want to be a satisfied investor? Be an informed investor. Keep an active role in planning with your investment representative. Avoid investing in a product you don't understand. Ask questions, and keep asking them, until you have a good grasp on the information.

When investors work with their investment representatives to make choices in line with their financial goals, communication is improved and confidence gained. Who knows? The next Gallup poll may show stockbrokers gaining on the dentists.

FROM C11

OBITUARIES

Marjorie Mae Vasey

Age 76, of Mississauga, Ontario, Canada, passed away Saturday, May 10, 1997 after a courageous and lengthy battle with cancer. Mrs. Vasey, formerly of Round Lake was the beloved wife of the late Harold Vasey, the loving mother of Dennis, Gary and his fiancé, Anne Ewing, and Marjean (John) Mudry. Cherished grandma and nana to Lance, Tamala, Brian, Mandee, Alexandra, Cassandra, and great grandma of Savannah. Marjorie will also be sadly missed by her many other family and friends both in Canada and the United States. A special thank you to Elsie Levek and Jill Riend for supporting both Marjorie and the family during this time.

Funeral services were offered at Strang Funeral Chapel and Crematorium, Ltd., Grayslake.

Interment was at Avon Centre Cemetery, Grayslake.

Paula Mae Warwick (nee Rothunde)

Age 42, a longtime resident of Lake Villa, and a former resident of California and Hawaii, died Sunday, May 11, 1997 at the Northern Illinois Medical Center in McHenry. She was born on Jan. 15, 1955 in Chicago and had recently been employed as a Social Service Assistant for the U.S. Navy at the Great Lakes Naval Base. She had also served as an Ombudsman in California, and was a member of the U.S. Naval Reserve, and was a former longtime member of the Fox Lake Baptist Church, and had also been formerly employed at the RTC Training Center at Great Lakes.

Survivors include: her husband, William Warwick; two daughters, Annamarie Warwick and Jennifer Warwick; all of Lake Villa; her mother, Marcella Rothunde (nee Abel) of Lake Villa; one brother, Wayne (Patricia) Rothunde of Ingleside; four sisters, Carroll (Kenneth) Andrews of Salem, Wisc.; Yolanda (nee Rothunde) (Mark) Frantzieh of Highwood, Cassella Ann (Michael) Butler of Portland, Ore.; Kimberly Ann Rothunde of Park City; one aunt, Edna Rothunde of Chicago; four nephews and two nieces, survive as well as many friends. She is preceded in death by her father, Edward Rothunde.

Friends may call, Thursday, May 15 from 5:30 to 7:30 p.m. at the K. K. Hamsher Funeral Home, 12 N. Pistakee Lake Rd., Fox Lake, (The Chapel on the Lake).

On Friday, 10:30 a.m., funeral services will be conducted at the Fox Lake Baptist Church, 27430 W. Nippersink Rd., with the Rev. Michael Vanlaningham, and Youth Pastor Rick Sisson, officiating, to which all are invited to attend. Please arrive after 10 a.m.

Interment following services will be private.
In lieu of flowers the family has requested Memorials for the Warwick children: c/o Yolanda Frantzieh, P.O. Box 346, Highwood, IL, 60040.

Carl R. Worthington

Age 87, passed away Saturday, May 10, 1997, at Winchester House in Libertyville. He was born, March 7, 1910 in Terre Haute, Ind. and moved to Michigan at age 65, formerly of Grayslake and Willow Springs. He served in the U.S. Army in WW II under General Patton, and was a member of the Veterans of Foreign Wars in Hesperia, Mich.

He is survived by son, Robert J. (Beverly) Worthington, of Aurora; daughter, Doris (Ron) Wingender of Grayslake; sister, Marge Morris, of Alabama; three grandchildren; Barb (Don) Beley of Lamont, Wayne (Patty) Michalek of Plainfield and Keith Michalek, also of Lamont; and four great grandchildren. Carl is preceded in death by his wife, Marion (nee Bahnick); brothers, Art and Bill, and sisters, Eva Rae and Pearl Smith.

Funeral services were held at Strang Funeral Chapel and Crematorium, Ltd., Grayslake with the Rev. Lisle J. Kauffman of Calvary Presbyterian Church, Round Lake, officiating.

Interment was at West Hesperia Cemetery, Hesperia, Mich.

Michelle Ann Radke

Age 29, of Wildwood, passed away Saturday, May 10, 1997 at her home, following a lengthy illness. She was born in Milwaukee, Wisc., Dec. 31, 1967 and had made her home in Wildwood for the past 15 years. She attended Warren Township High School and was a member of Wildwood Presbyterian Church. She was an avid admirer of horses.

She leaves her mother, Donna Radke of Wildwood; and her father, Robert Radke; her brother Bill (Debbie) Radke of Scottsdale, Ariz.; her sister, Jennifer Michelle Radke, Wildwood; her maternal grandfather, Henry Dorff, Milwaukee, Wisc.; her close friends, Jim O'Keefe, Wildwood, and Ruby Becker, Menominee Falls, Wisc.; her uncle Fred Rehbein, and cousins, Eric and Nicole Rehbein of Wauwatosa, Wisc. She is preceded in death by her maternal grandmother, Mildred Dorff and her aunt Doreen Rehbein.

Funeral services were offered at the Wildwood Presbyterian Church, Wildwood with the Rev. Greg Bostrom, Pastor, officiating.

Arrangements were entrusted to Strang Funeral Chapel and Crematorium, Ltd., Grayslake.

Graveside rites were offered at Arlington Memorial Park, Milwaukee, Wisc.

How To Survive The Job Search
By Nancy Sakol

Dear Search,
I am an upcoming '97 college graduate and I was offered a job with a corporation to begin on June 1st. The corporation is known to be quiet profile and image conscious. As usual I like to wear my hair short cropped for the summer because I am active in outdoor sports and activities. Yes, in the past my haircuts for summer have been a bit trendy, even two toned, but a friend has told me the refrain from anything too drastic or out of the ordinary. What's the deal? Is this an issue I should be concerned with? And personally, what difference does it make in the way I look just as long as I can get the job done?
K.P.—Libertyville

Dear K.P.,
H-e-l-l-o???? Your friend may be trying to tell you that if the company is known for profile and image there is a chance that they are very conservative. In which case if the corporation hired what they believed to be a conservative well groomed individual and this individual shows up to first day training sporting a two toned mohawk well...it leaves room for question in their minds from the beginning as to the type of person they met and hired vs. what is now standing before them. This is not to say you shouldn't get a haircut...just refrain, as your friend said, from doing anything drastic that will cause unnecessary attention to yourself. It goes back to the old saying "you never get a second chance to make a first impression." As for your comment about the way you look not having anything to do with whether or not you can do the job...that is correct, however, no company would admit to getting rid of an employee because they don't like the way they look; but keep in mind an employer can find any one of a dozen reasons for termination. In the meantime, consider yourself very fortunate to be walking away from college with a degree in hand and the key to your future in the other. My suggestion is to trim your hair before you start...get a feel for the inside and starting a new career instead of focusing on your outdoor extracurricular activities. As you leave the doors of your alma mater remember this is the real world you are about to venture into. Conformist...non-conformist...a smart individual knows the meaning of both.

PET OF THE WEEK*Kibbles

Kibbles is a female, black and tan doberman mix. Just two years old, Kibbles is one of the friendliest dogs at the shelter. From her irresistibly cute face, to her endlessly wagging tail, Kibbles is a winner. A mid-size dog with a short shiny coat, Kibbles is SWEET, SWEET, SWEET and adores attention. We think this girl could live on love alone. Kibbles is very smart and is as eager to please as she is to be loved. Kibbles has had some training and she will sit for you, and give paw. She will be easy to train and a responsive and loyal companion. We believe Kibbles will make an excellent family dog, who will absorb affection like a sponge and then give it back with interest. This adorable, friendly, smart and trainable dog has been waiting for a home since September of 1995. Kibbles is waiting to be loved, in Cage 52.

ALL DOGS benefit from housebreaking and basic obedience training which helps a dog bond to a new owner. Crating is recommended when the owner is away for the first year in a new home if needed to prevent behavior problems from separation anxiety.

Cash $55 donation includes free spay/neuter, collar, tag, leash, first shots, follow-up care and much more.

Orphans of the Storm is located at 2200 Riverwoods Rd., Deerfield. Hours are 11 a.m. to 5 p.m. seven days a week. Call (847) 945-0235 for further information.

The most comprehensive local news coverage of your hometown in the marketplace.

Hello, and welcome to 'Our Town'

Welcome to "Our Town" which is all about your town, friends and neighbors and, possibly, you may glimpse your own name in this column from time to time.

As part of the new design here at Lakeland Newspapers, I will be writing a weekly column. To start off the first week I thought I should introduce myself.

I started my career with Lakeland Newspapers in October of 1995 and began covering Wadsworth in September of 1996, when the "Wadsworth News" was born.

I came to Lake County with my family, who relocated here from Tennessee. I've been somewhat of a nomad in the last 10 years or so. Even here in Lake County, I've lived in Lake Bluff and Gurnee, before my recent move to the Lincoln Park neighborhood in Chicago. My friends and relatives claim they no longer write my name in ink in their address books.

I spent the first few years of my life in Kaneohe, Oahu, Hawaii, then, unfortunately may I add, parents decided to return to Midwest roots and moved their hometown, Kankakee, Ill. For those of you not familiar with Kankakee, most people remember it as the place they stop for gas on their way to Champaign.

OUR TOWN

When I was in high school my family moved down south to Chattanooga, Tenn. I attended Notre Dame High School there, which was strategically located directly across the street from an all boys school, which happened to be the alma mater of Ted Turner. I suppose everyone knows where we spent our time after school.

I decided not to stick it out down there and returned to Illinois, where I finished high school in my hometown.

I graduated from Bishop McNamara High School in Kankakee, and Columbia College

In Chicago. In college I started out as a public relations major, but found my way into the journalism program. My affinity for writing was sparked by the fact that I always had my nose buried in a book as a kid.

Covering Wadsworth brings back memories for me of my own family. My grandpa, Eaken, was a farmer in Iroquois County and the town my grandparents lived in was a little country hamlet similar to Wadsworth, although it was definitely in a more remote location.

Often, I'm reminded of my hometown when talking with residents of the area, who reminisce about the way things used to be and where they're heading. Everyone in Newport Township seems to know everyone else, either as distant relatives, neighbors, or former classmates.

If you have interesting information or anecdotes to submit for "Our Town" call staff reporter Elizabeth Eaken at 223-8181, ext. 178 or e-mail, edit@lnd.com.
